The Antinuclear Movement Jerome Price,1982 The Antinuclear Movement Jerome Price,1990 The Anti-Nuclear Power Movement and Discourses of Energy Justice Jesse P. Van Gerven,2022-01-31 Jesse P Van Gerven critically analyzes the movement for a carbon free and nuclear free energy future in the U S using an environmental justice framework Van Gerven explores how different social and environmental justice discourses are constructed through the claims of social movement organizations This study shows how ideas of distribution recognition and representation structure the arguments made by anti nuclear groups against the production of nuclear power Through this analysis the author identifies general principals of energy justice These principles can guide future energy policy and energy system development to ensure social and environmental justice Rethinking the American Antinuclear Movement Paul Rubinson,2018-01-29 The massive movement against nuclear weapons began with the invention of the atomic bomb in 1945 and lasted throughout the Cold War Antinuclear protesters of all sorts mobilized in defiance of the move toward nuclear defense in the wake of the Cold War They influenced U S politics resisting the mindset of nuclear deterrence and mutually assured destruction The movement challenged Cold War militarism and restrained leaders who wanted to rely almost exclusively on nuclear weapons for national security Ultimately a huge array of activists decided that nuclear weapons made the country less secure and that through testing and radioactive fallout they harmed the very people they were supposed to protect Rethinking the American Antinuclear Movement provides a short accessible overview of this important social and political movement highlighting key events and figures the strengths and weaknesses of the activists and its lasting effects on the country It is perfect for anyone wanting to obtain an introduction to the American antinuclear movement and the massive reach of this transnational concern The Philosophic Roots of Western Antinuclear Movements Richard Bitzinger,Rand Corporation,1989 Social Movements in an Organizational Society Mayer N. Rochon,2014-07-14 The crusade against nuclear weapons in Great Britain West Germany France and the Netherlands in the early 1980s dwarfed all previous protest movements in Western Europe in the postwar period What produced the demonstrations against NATO s decision in December 1979 to base 572 cruise and Pershing II missiles in five West European countries What generated the widespread support that the demonstrators enjoyed Contrary to the frequent claim that such political movements are a symptom of governmental crisis in the advanced industrial democracies Thomas Rochon develops the idea that they arise from a creative impulse and perform crucial functions of innovative criticism He concludes that the West European peace movement has ignited a public debate in which reduction or elimination of certain categories of nuclear weapons is taken seriously for the first time Among the topics examined are the sources of support for the peace movement in public opinion the types of people who joined or supported the movement and proposals they offered for a nonnuclear defense policy The author discusses the organization of the movement and its choice of tactics its impact on politics and the links between it and other institutions such as churches trade unions and political parties Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Anti-nuclear Movements Wolfgang Rüdig,1990 RAOP ,1989 Nuclear Politics Keiko Tabusa,1992 Doomsday or Deterrence? Ferenc Fehér,Agnes Heller,2018-10-24 Doomsday or Deterrence argues against the majority of premises and conclusions of the antinuclear argument as existed in 1986 when this study was first published Fehér and Heller s study claims that social changes are important to curb technology trends that lean toward the construction of nuclear weapons as well as using the West as its own value that needs to be defended and emphasising the importance of understanding the true feelings behind the antinuclear argument This title will be of interest to students of politics and international relations The West German Peace Movement and the National Question Kim R.
