The Architecture Machine:

The Architecture Machine Nicholas Negroponte, 1970    The Architecture Machine Teresa Fankhänel, Andres Lepik, 2020-07-20 Today it is hard to imagine the everyday work in an architectural practice without computers Bits and bytes play an important role in the design and presentation of architecture The book which is published in the context of an exhibition of the same name of the Architekturmuseum der TUM at the Pinakothek der Moderne in Munich October 14 2020 to January 10 2021 for the first time considers in depth the development of the digital in architecture In four chapters it recounts this intriguing history from its beginnings in the 1950s through to today and presents the computer as a drawing machine as a design tool as a medium for telling stories and as an interactive communication platform The basic underlying question is simple Has the computer changed architecture And if so by how much    Architecture/machine Moritz Gleich, Laurent Stalder, 2017 What is the nature of the interaction between architecture and machines as key objects in human design and how does this interplay work The contributors to this book explore this multifaceted interchange in its broad thematic manifestations and historical depth focusing above all on three aspects machines that assist in the design and construction of buildings those that perform their tasks inside the walls and structures of buildings and in particular machines that act as models and images of architectural thought What emerges is that the subject of machines within the architectural framework has been rooted not simply in concrete technical questions but rather to a far greater extent in general programs processes and performances and thus in fundamental categories of built space As the first issue of gta papers Architecture Machine forms the basis of a new publication format of gta Verlag The gta papers will at regular intervals encompass and present current and selected research findings from ETH Zurich s Institute for the History and Theory of Architecture    Soft Architecture Machines Nicholas Negroponte, 1975 A utopian view of the future relationship between architects and machines    The Architecture Machine Steven Raike, 1999    CityMaker Jose Beirao, 2012-09-28 CityMaker presents a method and a set of tools to generate alternative solutions for an urban context The method proposes the use of a combined set of design patterns encoding typical design moves used by urban designers The combination of patterns generates different layouts which can be adjusted by manipulating several parameters in relation to updated urban indicators The patterns were developed from observation of typical urban design procedures first encoded as discursive grammars and later translated into parametric design patterns The CityMaker method and tools allows the designer to compose a design solution from a set of programmatic premises and fine tune it by pulling parameters whilst checking the changes in urban indicators These tools improve the designer s awareness of the consequences of their design moves

Empowering Users through Design David Bihanic, 2015-01-12 At the crossroads of various disciplines this collective work examines the possibility of a new end user engagement in ongoing digital technological products and services development It provides an overview of recent research specifically focused on the user s democratic participation and empowerment It also enables readers to better identify the main opportunities of participatory design a concept which encourages the blurring of the role between user and designer This allows people to escape their status as end user and to elevate themselves to the level of creator This book explores new avenues for rethinking the processes and practices of corporate innovation in order to cope with current socio economic and technological changes In so doing it aims to help companies renew industrial models that allow them to design and produce new ranges of technological products and services by giving the user an active role in the development process far beyond the basic role of consumer Intended for designers design researchers and scientists interested in innovation and technology management this book also provides a valuable resource for professionals involved in technology based innovation processes Architectural Intelligence Molly Wright Steenson,2022-11-01 Architects who engaged with cybernetics artificial intelligence and other technologies poured the foundation for digital interactivity In Architectural Intelligence Molly Wright Steenson explores the work of four architects in the 1960s and 1970s who incorporated elements of interactivity into their work Christopher Alexander Richard Saul Wurman Cedric Price and Nicholas Negroponte and the MIT Architecture Machine Group all incorporated technologies including cybernetics and artificial intelligence into their work and influenced digital design practices from the late 1980s to the present day Alexander long before his famous 1977 book A Pattern Language used computation and structure to visualize design problems Wurman popularized the notion of information architecture Price designed some of the first intelligent buildings and Negroponte experimented with the ways people experience artificial intelligence even at architectural scale Steenson investigates how these architects pushed the boundaries of architecture and how their technological experiments pushed the boundaries of technology What did computational cybernetic and artificial intelligence researchers have to gain by engaging with architects and architectural problems And what was this new space that emerged within these collaborations At times Steenson writes the architects in this book characterized themselves as anti architects and their work as anti architecture The projects Steenson examines mostly did not result in constructed buildings but rather in design processes and tools computer programs interfaces digital environments Alexander Wurman Price and Negroponte laid the foundation for many of our contemporary interactive practices from information architecture to interaction design from machine learning to smart cities The Architect ,1874 The Elements of Machine Design ...: General principles, fastenings, and transmissive machinery William Cawthorne Unwin,1890 Machinery Fred Herbert Colvin,Lester Gray French,1935 Manufacturing Automation Technology Development Bo Zhao,Guang Lin Wang,Wei Ma,Zhibo Yang,Yan Yan Yan,2010-12-30 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 14th Conference of China University Society on Manufacturing Automation August 11 14 2010 Jiaozuo China Catalogue University of Michigan,1898 Announcements for the following year included in some vols American Printer and Bookmaker ,1894 The Architect and Contract Reporter ,1897 Architectural Intelligence Molly Wright Steenson,2017-12-22 Architects who engaged with cybernetics artificial intelligence and other
