European dominance affected men and women who were forest dwellers highlanders and slaves people who worked in everyday jobs as fishers raiders divers or traders Often neglected by historians the response of these members of society are a crucial part of the history of Southeast Asia

Iranun and Balangingi James Francis Warren, 2002 The aim of this book is to explore ethnic cultural and material changes in the transformative history s of oceans and seas commodities and populations mariners and ships and raiders and refugees in Southeast Asia with particular reference to the Sulu Mindanao region or the Sulu Zone Examining the profound changes that were taking place in the Sulu Mindanao region and elsewhere at the end of the eighteenth century this book the companion volume to The Sulu Zone published in 1981 establishes an ethnohistorical framework for understanding the emerging inter connected patterns of global commerce long distance maritime trading and the formation and maintenance of ethnic identity It also provides a new conceptual framework for understanding the problem of ethnic self definition and political processes and conflicts in the recent history of the Philippines Indonesia and Malaysia

Maritime Slavery Philip Morgan, 2018-12-07 Think of maritime slavery and the notorious Middle Passage the unprecedented forced migration of enslaved Africans across the Atlantic readily comes to mind This so called middle leg from Africa to the Americas of a supposed trading triangle linking Europe Africa and the Americas naturally captures attention for its scale and horror After all the Middle Passage was the largest forced transoceanic migration in world history now thought to have involved about 12 5 million African captives shipped in about 44 000 voyages that sailed between 1514 and 1866 No other coerced migration matches it for sheer size or gruesomeness Maritime slavery is not however just about the movement of people as commodities but rather the involvement of all sorts of people including slaves in the transportation of those human commodities Maritime slavery is thus not only about objects being moved but also about subjects doing the moving Some slaves were actors not simply the acted upon They were pilots sailors canoemen divers linguists porters stewards cooks and cabin boys not forgetting all the ancillary workers in ports such as stevedores warehousemen labourers washerwomen tavern workers and prostitutes Maritime Slavery reflects this current interest in maritime spaces and covers all the major Oceans
