The Places Of History Regionalism Revisited In Latin America:

The Places of History Doris Sommer, 1999 A compilation of essays exploring regionalism in Latin America which seek to fill historical gaps created by the reading of Latin American literature either through a totalizing view of a globalized culture or through universal formulae for reading offered.

American Literary Regionalism in a Global Age Philip Joseph, 2007-01-01 In this distinctive book Philip Joseph considers how regional literature can remain relevant in a modern global community Why he asks should we continue to read regionalist fiction in an age of expanding international communications and increasing nonlocal forms of affiliation With this question as a guide Joseph places the regionalist tradition of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries at the center of a contemporary conversation about community Part of the challenge Joseph shows is to distinguish between versions of regionalism that speak nostalgically to modern readers and those that might enter actively into a more progressive collective dialogue Examining the works of well known writers including Hamlin Garland Abraham Cahan Willa Cather Zora Neale Hurston and William Faulkner Joseph argues that these regionalist authors share a vision of local communities in open discourse with the external world capable of shaping public thought and policy and also of benefiting from the knowledge and experiences of outsiders Their fiction depicts a range of localities from Jewish American neighborhoods and midwest farming communities to southern African American towns and southwestern mixed race parishes Their characters are often associated with the literary artistic process a method stressing open ended critique that unlike journalistic philosophical or legal processes ensures open dialogue Joseph takes his argument beyond the boundaries of literary scholarship by engaging with art critics such as Lucy Lippard distance learning opponents such as David Noble and civil society proponents such as Robert Putnam and Michael Sandel Like civil society advocates today regionalist writers used the idea of community as a discursive topos and explored how values including home and neighborhood were reconciled with such democratic ideals as individual self determination and collective empowerment

Narrative and National Allegory in Rómulo Gallegos's Venezuela Jenni Maria Lehtinen, 2013 Venezuela's preeminent educator politician and most important author Rómulo Gallegos 1884-1969 left a lasting imprint on how Venezuelans conceive of their national history and identity Jenni Lehtinen offers the first full length study of Gallegos's later Venezuelan novels Canaima 1935 Pobre negro 1937 and Sobre la misma tierra 1943 which have been up to now eclipsed by the critical attention devoted to Doña Barbara 1929 By combining close readings organized around national allegory and narrative structure with discussions about Gallegos's socio political essays the study reveals previously ignored radical developments in the Venezuelan author's ideologies Through her bold reinterpretation of the later novels Lehtinen reveals Gallegos as a far more innovative writer than has been traditionally appreciated Jenni Lehtinen completed her doctoral studies in Spanish American literature at Wolfson College University of Oxford where she has held various teaching posts and lectured on Nation and Narration

British Bulletin of Publications on Latin America, the Caribbean, Portugal, and Spain ,2002 Excess Baggage Jonathan Pitcher,2009 Excess Baggage investigates how we read modern theory how we apprehend Latin American culture through that theory why this approach is flawed and how our reading could be different It is a study of modernity s supersessive paradoxical attempts to outthink thought This methodology never autochthonous to any context despite its claims is traced through one of its more extreme moments the Enlightenment and then through the work of Freud Nietzsche and Marx and their more recent postmodern acolytes to the Reformation Although these thinkers are self differentiating the divisions are artificial for each even in present formats references a preternatural origin that is subsequently projected into the future disavowing history s ability to perceive itself as anything other than revolutionary This book traces post 1960 Latin Americanism through readings by its critics cum theorists as dictatorially assigning a univocal reading to a continent s cultural production regardless of how ethical the theory may itself seem Though predominantly a metacritical work a reading of philosophy and its Latin Americanist manifestations there is also comparative reading of European North American and Latin American literature Meaning has always existed in all such contexts but is either eradicated or misread by the premises of our critical equipment In fact or fiction Excess Baggage appeals for an admission of contextualized mnemotechny inevitable in thought regardless and the real danger in the present milieu Colonial Latin American Historical Review ,2001 The places of history Doris Sommer,1996 Hapi, Hispanic American Periodicals Index 2001 ,2002-04
