Some Poisoned By Their Wives:

A History of Murder Pieter Spierenburg, 2013-04-18 This book offers a fascinating and insightful overview of seven centuries of murder in Europe. It tells the story of the changing face of violence and documents the long term decline in the incidence of homicide. From medieval vendettas to stylised duels from the crime passionnel of the modern period right up to recent public anxieties about serial killings and underworld assassinations the book offers a richly illustrated account of murder's metamorphoses. In this original and compelling contribution Spierenburg sheds new light on several important themes. He looks for example at the transformation of homicide from a private matter followed by revenge or reconciliation into a public crime always subject to state intervention. Combining statistical data with a cultural approach he demonstrates the crucial role gender played in the spiritualisation of male honour and the subsequent reduction of male on male aggression as well as offering a comparative view of how different social classes practised and reacted to violence. This authoritative study will be of great value to students and scholars of the history of crime and violence, criminology and the sociology of violence. At a time when murder rates are rising and public fears about violent crime are escalating this book will also interest the general reader intrigued by how our relationship with murder reached this point. Poisoned Lives

Katherine D. Watson, 2006-08-23 Here is a valuable and fascinating piece of social history. Watson sheds new light on a macabre yet frequently misunderstood subject. The Complete Concordance to Shakespeare: Being a Verbal Index to All the Passages in the Dramatic Works of the Poet Mary Cowden-Clarke, 1845 Baconiana, 1900 Noted on Some of the Characteristics of Crime and Criminals in the Peshawar Division of the Punjab G. R. Elsmie, 1884 The Theatre of Love, Sex, Marriage and Beyond Gaglozoo H. A. Berdie, 2016-04-25 It is through a deep reflection that I have been able to frame the title of this book which is The Theatre of Love Sex Marriage and Beyond. In fact the contents of this book take their roots from the title. This book is designed to cover as much as possible a substantial number of the various aspects of the subjects I have discussed as dealt with specifically by the innumerable authors at one time or the other. It is without the slightest doubt that not all or every aspect of the subjects of love, sex and marriage written or propounded by authors, researchers, psychologists, sexologists and medical scientists can be found in one book. These different and innumerable ideas, theories, hypothesis and research findings are as scattered in uncountable books, articles, newsprints or papers and magazines. I will in all honesty admit that what I have attempted to do in this book is only a tip of the iceberg considering the infinitude of the intellectual input and output of others in the myriad of data on the subject. I have divided this book into four parts: love, sex, marriage and the beyond. These notwithstanding I hope this humble rendition, however inadequate, would give readers a general overview of the essentials of these enigmatic subjects of love, sex, marriage and the beyond. A Woman Killed with Kindness Thomas Heywood, 1897 The Criminal Law Magazine and Reporter Stewart Rapalje, Robert Linn Lawrence, Gustav Adolf Endlich, James Shrewsbury Erwin, 1887 Containing original articles on timely topics, full reports of
