Merchant Vessels of the United States... United States. Coast Guard, 1963 Children, Behold and Know Your God! Shirley Bradley, 2021-08-04 I often talk with my grandchildren about God Whenever we go outside I point out the sky clouds birds butterflies grass and trees saying God made these and everything that grows from the ground I taught them to say grace before meals But I knew that was not enough I was disappointed with myself because I was unable to explain God in a way my little ones could comprehend his awesome power and intelligence That troubled my spirit to the point of me asking him to tell me how to introduce my grandchildren to him in a way that they would know who he is He answered me in a surprising unexpected way He said Write them a book about me His words filled me with so much excitement I could hardly wait to get started As I began to study Genesis and do some research I ran into a God that made my mouth pop open I saw the brilliance of his design that a big bang could never have produced I saw a God greater than the vastness of the universe he created I saw intelligence that made my brain look like a speck in comparison The word genius cannot adequately describe him I give God all the glory for the contents of this book he steered me from the beginning to the end Once it was finished I asked him what should I call it and he said Children Behold and Know Your God I sat my grandchildren down next to me and read the book to them Their eyes were opened and they responded with surprise questions and made statements that caused me to laugh out loud When I asked God if he wanted me to publish this book his answer was No man lights a candle and puts it under a bush but on a candlestick and it gives light to all that are in the house Two voices in the air John Francis Barnett, 1870 '20', a volume of story and song Robert Overton, 1888 Children's Friend, 1893

under their branches Far away the blackbird s call tells of the coming of the night The birds cease their singing silence descends soon the beasts of the night will make their appearance Between tangled roots hidden by nettles and brambles the earth seems to ripple A few humps of earth seem to emerge from the ground They are the last traces of burial mounds of mounds which were tall and high 2500 years ago Many of them have disappeared hidden by tangled roots of beech and oak ploughed flat by careless farmers others again show caved in tops where grave robbers have looted the central chamber The locals shun these hills There are tales that strange fires can be seen glowing on the mounds and that on spooky nights great armed warriors arise from their resting places Then the doors to the deep are thrown open and unwary travelers have to beware of being invited into the halls of the dead and unborn Here the kings of the deep feast and celebrate time passes differently and strange treasures may be found Who knows the nights when the gates are open Who carries the primrose the wish flower the strange blossom that opens the doors to the hollow hills     Hardwicke's Science-gossip Mordecai Cubitt Cooke, John Ellor Taylor, 1890     Robert Ainsleigh.
