Land Use In Advancing Agriculture Advanced Series In Agricultural Sciences Vol 1:

Land Use in Advancing Agriculture A.P.A. Vink, 2013-03-12 The Advanced Series in Agricultural Sciences is designed to fill a long felt need for advanced educational and technological books in the agricultural sciences. These texts intended primarily for students of agriculture should also provide up to date technical background reading for the many agricultural workers in extension services, educational systems or international bodies. The editors of Advanced Series in Agricultural Sciences will select key subjects relating to the agricultural environment, agricultural physics and chemistry, soil science, plant sciences, animal sciences, food technology and agricultural engineering for a critical and synthetic appraisal. An initial theoretical presentation will be used by authors of individual volumes in the series to develop a technical approach including examples and practical solutions to each subject. In addressing the advanced undergraduate and early graduate student of agriculture, selected authors will present the latest information leavened with the lessons learned from their own experience on precise and well defined topics. Such books that widen the horizons of the student of agriculture can serve too as useful reference sources for the young specialist in the early years of his career. Many specialists who are involved in teaching agricultural science are isolated from universities and research institutions. This series will bring them up to date scientific information thus keeping them in touch with progress. The basic objective of Advanced Series in Agricultural Sciences is to effect a structural integration of the theoretic and technical approaches to agriculture. Encyclopedia of Soil Science Rattan Lal, 2006 Upholding the high standard of quality set by the previous edition, this two volume second edition offers a vast array of recent peer reviewed articles. It showcases research and practices with added sections on ISTIC World Soil Information, root growth and agricultural management, nitrate leaching, management, podzols, paramos, soils, water repellent soils, rare earth elements and more. With hundreds of entries covering tillage, irrigation, erosion control, ground water and soil degradation, the book offers quick access to all branches of soil science from mineralogy and physics to soil management, restoration and global warming. Robinson, 2012-12-06 One of the points clearly stressed in the beginning of this book is that the essential feature of any dynamic system is change and that where there is change there may also be growth and evolution. Plant breeding and plant protection have grown and evolved considerably during the past century; they have also witnessed several important Hegelian changes. This book by R A Robinson is just such a change in scientific thinking. It is unique in presenting an entirely new insight to plant parasite relationships and in providing a practical guide for managing plant pathosystems for man's advantage in agriculture. The author brings together for the first time in a holistic manner the various plant protection and breeding disciplines; he analyses their past limitations and deficiencies and throws useful new light on the nature of parasitism. From this he is able to gain a clear understanding of the functions of the various pathosystem components. On the basis of this understanding he then proposes practical ways for using these components to achieve and maintain the type of balance which is the basis of survival in any evolutionary system including that of man himself All this is done in a lively and elegant manner using logic as the main driving force to elucidate and define entirely new concepts without obtruse mathematical or biochemical formulae Agriculture in Semi-Arid Environments A.E. Hall,G.H. Cannell,H.W. Lawton,2012-12-06 The semi arid zones of the world are fragile ecosystems which are being substantially modified by the activities of mankind Increasing human populations have resulted in greater demands on semi arid zones for providing human sustenance and the possibility that this may enhance desertification is a grave concern These zones are harsh habitats for humans The famines that resulted from drought during the late 1960 s and the 1970 s in the African Sahel illustrated the unreliability of present agricultural systems in this zone Large fluctuations in agricultural production have occurred in semi arid zones of Australia North America and the Soviet Union due to periodic droughts even though considerable agricultural technology has been devoted to agricultural development in these zones The challenge to mankind is to manage these different semi arid zones so that productivity is increased and stabilized and environmental deterioration is decreased Irrigation can be used to increase and stabilize agricultural production in semi arid zones as discussed in Volume 5 of this series Arid Zone Irrigation The present volume Agriculture in Semi Arid Environments focuses on dryland farming in semi arid zones and is relevant to the large areas of the world where rainfall is limiting and where water is not available for irrigation This volume is designed to assist agricultural development in these areas and consists of reviews and analyses of available information by scientists working in Africa Australia and at the University of California

Energy and Agriculture G. Stanhill,2012-12-06 Energy and agriculture are both extremely broad subjects and their interactions the subject of this book cover almost the full spectrum of the agricultural sciences Yet the subject is a relatively new one whose importance first received widespread recognition barely a decade ago following the dramatic increase in oil prices during 1973 The impact of this increase was such as to promote a world wide debate on the future direction that agriculture should take This debate was and is of particular concern in countries where agriculture plays a leading role in economic and social development During the last half century many national agricultural systems have been transformed from almost closed self sufficient systems with few locally produced inputs geared to satisfy local requirements to intensive open systems utilizing large quantities of energy rich inputs such as fossil fuel for manufactured agro chemicals water distribution and imported animal feedstuffs to produce a range of sophisticated products often for export which in turn require many energy rich inputs for their marketing This industrialization of agriculture has proved to be very successful in many respects and indeed was accepted as a general model for agricultural development allowing increased productivity and efficiency per unit land labor and water even in areas with limited natural resources Books in Series ,1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts Series Authors and Titles
