Sugar Secrets Helen Perelman, 2018-09-11 Join Princess Mini on all of her princess adventures at the Royal Fairy Academy in this second super sweet Aladdin QUIX story Princess Mini's adventures at Royal Fairy Academy continue. A class assignment for Parent Day has Mini worried her candy creation won't be sugar-tastic enough for her royal parents and even her cousin Prince Frosting wants to make sure his treats stand out. Help arrives when Gobo Mini's secret troll friend comes to the rescue with sweet surprises for the two fairies. From Cuba with Love Megan Daigle, 2015-01-16 Megan Daigle explores the role of women in Cuban political culture by examining the rise of economies of sex, romance, and money since the early 1990s. Investigating the lived realities of the Cuban women and some men who date tourists and offering a unique perspective on the surrounding debates, From Cuba with Love raises issues about women's bodies, what they can or should do, and equally, what can be done to them. Daigle draws attention to the violence experienced by these young women at the hands of a moralistic state, an opportunistic police force, and even their own families and partners. Daigle's provocative perspective will make readers question how race and politics in Cuba are tied to women and sex and the ways in which political power acts directly on the bodies of individuals through law, policing, institutional programs, and social norms. Magical secrets are quickly grasped. They open doors to fresh ways of seeing and understanding. Artists use aquatint, a form of etching, to create delicate washes, velvety blacks, and intricate layers of color impossible in other art media. In this book, the third in a series about etchings, Emily York discusses 46 aquatints by 32 artists with special attention to fascinating sequential works by Richard Diebenkorn and Al Held. Emily York is a master painter at Crown Point Press, a publishing workshop where artists have been creating etchings since 1962. She ties processes directly to art and, with clear writing and abundant illustrations, explains the aquatint processes of spit bite, sugar lift, soap ground, and water bite. She also details steel facing and multiple plate printing and gives step-by-step instructions for making your own aquatints. Anyone who cares about art will enjoy this book, and anyone who makes etchings will find it indefensible. The included DVD demonstrates the processes, and the accompanying website provides ongoing information about printmaking. Mixing Race, Mixing Culture Monika Kaup, Debra Rosenthal, 2002-08-15 I have nothing but praise for this book. It is well conceived; it shows that it was not put together hastily; it incorporates the latest scholarship and it engages in the latest contemporary debates in the field. Its Pan American approach is one that reflects the cutting edge of the field of Latin American and Latina/Latino Studies. Rolando J. Romero, Associate Professor of Latina/Latino Studies, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Over the last five centuries, the story of the Americas has been a story of the mixing of races and cultures. Not surprisingly, the issue of miscegenation, with its attendant fears and hopes, has been a pervasive theme in New World literature as writers from Canada to Argentina confront the legacy of cultural hybridization and fusion. This book takes up the challenge of transforming American literary and cultural studies into a comparative discipline by examining the dynamics of racial and cultural mixture and its opposite tendency, racial and cultural disjunction, in the literatures of the Americas. Editors Kaup and Rosenthal have brought together a distinguished set of scholars who compare the treatment of racial and cultural mixtures in literature from North America, the Caribbean, and Latin America. From various angles, they remap the Americas as a multicultural and multiracial hemisphere with a common history of colonialism, slavery, racism, and racial and cultural hybridity.

Proceed with Caution, when Engaged by Minority Writing in the Americas Doris Sommer, 1999 Let the reader beware. Educated readers naturally feel entitled to know what they're reading; often if they try hard enough to know it, with the conspiratorial intimacy of a potential partner. This book reminds us that cultural differences may in fact make us targets of a text, not its co-conspirators. Some literature, especially culturally particular or minority literature, actually uses its differences and distances to redirect our desire for intimacy toward more cautious, respectful engagements. To name these figures of cultural discontinuity to describe a rhetoric of particularism in the Americas is the purpose of Proceed with Caution. In a series of daring forays from seventeenth-century Inca Garcilaso de la Vega to Julio Cortázar and Mario Vargas Llosa, Doris Sommer shows how ethnically marked texts use enticing and frustrating language games to keep readers engaged with difference. Gloria Estefan's syncopated appeal to solidarity plays on Whitman's undifferentiated ideal; unrequitable seductions echo through Rigoberta Menchú's protestations of secrecy; Toni Morrison's interrupted confession the rebuffs in a Mexican testimonial novel. In these and other examples, Sommer trains us to notice the signs that affirm a respectful distance as a condition of political fairness and aesthetic effect: warnings that will be audible and engaging for readings that tolerate difference once we listen for a rhetoric of particularism.
