Special Needs, Community Music, and Adult Learning Gary E. McPherson, Graham F. Welch, 2018-05-03 Special Needs Community Music and Adult Learning is one of five paperback books derived from the foundational two volume Oxford Handbook of Music Education. Designed for music teachers, students, and scholars of music education as well as educational administrators and policy makers, this fourth book in the set focuses on issues and topics that help to broaden conceptions of music and musical involvement while recognizing that development occurs through many forms. The first section addresses music education for those with special abilities and special needs; authors explore many of the pertinent issues that can promote or hinder learners who share characteristics and delve deep into what it means to be musical. The second section of the volume addresses music as a shared community experience and the diverse and constantly evolving international practice of community music. The chapters in the third section provide evidence that the process of music education exists as a lifelong continuum that encompasses informal, formal, and non-formal methods alike. The authors encourage music educators to think in terms of a music learning society where adult education is not peripheral to the priority of other age groups but is instead fully integral to a vision for the good of society. By developing sound pedagogical approaches that are tailored to take account of all learners, the volume endeavors to move from making individual adaptations towards designing sensitive universal solutions. Contributors: Carlos R. Abril, Mary Adamek, Kenneth S. Aigen, Chelcy Bowles, Mary L. Cohen, William M. Dabback, Alice Ann Darrow, John Drummond, Cochavit Elefant, David J. Elliott, Lee Higgins, Valentina Iadeluca, Judith A. Jellison, Janet L. Jensen, Patrick M. Jones, Jody L. Kerchner, Thomas W. Langston, Andreas C. Lehmann, Katrina McFerran, Gary E. ## Overcoming Inequalities in Schools and Learning

Communities: Innovative Education for a New Century Rocio Garcia-Carrion, Roseli Rodrigues De Mello, Arnetha F. Ball, 2020-03-24. Educational inequalities have strongly impacted disadvantaged and underserved populations such as us, indigenous, Roma, migrant children, students with disabilities, and those affected by poverty. A wide array of research has contributed to explaining the mechanisms and effects of inequalities in the achievement patterns, dropout rates, disengagement in the school experiences of children and youth, traditionally excluded. Research also suggests the negative consequences for child development, including cognitive, language, and social emotional functioning of poverty and lack of quality education in the early years. Consequently, the current unequal access to optimal learning environments for every single child to succeed in education and to have a better life perpetuates the exclusion and neglects the right to education for those minorities. This Research Topic aims at moving beyond causes and shed light upon effective solutions by providing successful pathways for integration and inclusion of the learners most heavily affected. Scholars worldwide are looking for successful actions with children, youth, and communities of learners historically underserved to overcome educational and social exclusion. These transformative approaches go beyond the deficit thinking and are grounded in theories, empirical evidence and multidisciplinary interventions oriented towards achieving social impact, which refers to the extent to which those actions have contributed to improve a societal challenge. The international network of Schools as Learning Communities is advancing knowledge on deepening and expanding the impact of what has been defined as Successful Educational Actions (SEAs). These are those interventions that improve students' achievement and social cohesion and inclusion in many diverse contexts, regardless of the socioeconomic, national and cultural environment of schools. Drawing on the evidence generated by this network of researchers to address the global challenge of inequality by studying educational actions oriented towards achieving social impact and potentially transferrable to other contexts, this Research Topic aims at deepening on this approach. In short, our purpose is that the contributions included in this Research Topic contribute to reduce educational and social inequalities and especially benefit those populations most in need.

Special Educational Needs Ronald Gulliford, Graham Upton, 2002-09-11. The contributors focus on particular areas of special educational need, arguing that effective educational provision can be enhanced with reference to the particular problems experienced by children. Set in the context of a generic understanding of special education, this timely book addresses commonly raised questions: what is the condition and how can I recognise it? why does it occur? what sort of educational, personal and social consequences are there associated with it? are there any specialist skills and resources which I should know about? what are the implications for educational provision? teacher support, curricular access, assessment and classroom management. This popular book has been fully revised to provide a comprehensive overview of special needs provision. As such, it is the key text on special needs in the 90s.

Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1996: Department of Education United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations.

Subcommittee on Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies, 1996. This document contains proceedings of Senate hearings before a subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations on H.R. 2127, an act making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and other related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1996.
