Personal Views Robin Wood, 2006 Robin Wood the renowned scholarly critic and writer on film has prepared a new introduction and added three essays to his classic text Personal Views. This important book contains essays on a wide range of films and filmmakers and considers questions of the nature of film criticism and the critic. Wood, the proud unreconstructed humanist, offers in this collection persuasive arguments for the importance of art, creativity, and personal response, and also demonstrates these values in his analyses. Personal Views is the only book on cinema by Wood never to have been published in the United States. It contains essays on popular Hollywood directors such as Howard Hawks, Vincente Minnelli, and Leo McCarey, as well as pieces on recognized auteurs like Max Ophüls, Orson Welles, Fritz Lang, and Josef von Sternberg, and essays on art film icons Jean-Luc Godard, Michelangelo Antonioni, and Kenji Mizoguchi. The writings that make up Personal Views appeared during a pivotal time in both film studies and during its academic institutionalization, and in the author's life. Throughout this period of change, Wood remained a stalwart anchor of the critical discipline, using theory without being used by it and always staying attentive to textual detail. Wood's overall critical project is to combine aesthetics and ideology in understanding films for the ultimate goal of enriching our lives individually and together. This is a major work to be read and reread, not just by film scholars and students of film, but by anyone with an interest in twentieth-century culture.

EBOOK: Film Art: An Introduction David Bordwell, 2013-08-16. Film is an art form with a language and an aesthetic all its own. Since 1979, David Bordwell and Kristin Thompson's Film Art has been the best-selling and most widely respected introduction to the analysis of cinema. Taking a skills-centered approach supported by examples from many periods and countries, the authors help students develop a core set of analytical skills that will enrich their understanding of any film in any genre. In-depth examples deepen students' appreciation for how creative choices by filmmakers affect what viewers experience and how they respond. Film Art is generously illustrated with more than 1,000 frame enlargements taken directly from completed films, providing concrete illustrations of key concepts.

Long Shadows Marie Luise Kaschnitz, 1995. This collection of short stories, some semi-autobiographical, by Marie Luise Kaschnitz (1901-74), the eminent German novelist and poet, reflects many of the themes to be found throughout her fiction, such as the dread of moral anarchy which leaves nothing in its wake and the shaping of individual destinies by loneliness, insecurity, and fear. Usually told from a woman's viewpoint, her works feature strong female characters whose inner strength enables them to overcome their fears and accept their fates with stoic determination. Kaschnitz's chief concern is the human condition, giving her work a continuing relevance. She confronts such universal issues as growing old, growing up, and the loss of religious faith, as well as those which have a more contemporary resonance, including the social problems of working parents and adoption.

The Snow People Marie Herbert, 1973. The author shares her experiences living among the Inuit of northwest Greenland with her polar explorer husband and infant daughter.
