So Good:

It Looked So Good in the Window Sid Cooper, 2008-10 One night while we were performing at the club Tommy Dorsey himself came in with an entourage of his people When Tommy's group went thru the room we were deep into an arrangement of mine of a popular war song called On a Wing and a Prayer they all slowed down a moment to hear what we were doing I was excited Upon returning to our hotel I found a note in my box I just about fainted It said please come by the stage door to see me signed Lou Zito manager of the T D Orchestra Can you imagine the excitement in my brain Wow It was like an explosion He told me that Tommy wanted to see me about joining the band I was totally tongue tied He took me to Tommy's dressing room There he was as big as life and he asked me to join his band There you go that dream Ethel had came true And so my journey in the wonderful world of big bands really began Sounds So Good to Me Barry Lee Pearson, 1984 The roots of much American music lie in the intensely personal art form of the blues What bluesmen from W C Handy to B B King have told us about their lives has shaped America's perception of the blues These life stories provide central insights into blues music and stand as a fascinating form of narrative in their own right Barry Lee Pearson has conducted dozens of field interviews and collected over a hundred published autobiographies to present this collective portrait of bluesmen's careers as they themselves tell them their musical learning communities work pleasures travels triumphs and crises
