South Africa in the Global Imaginary Leon de Kock, Louise Bethlehem, Sonja Laden, 2021-11-15 This award winning collection of essays about culture and identity was written from the perspective of post apartheid South Africa Voted best special issue of 2001 by the Council of Editors of Learned Journal

South Africa in the Global Imaginary Leon De Kock, Pippa Skotnes, Loren Kruger, 2001-01-01 Winner of the 2001 CELJ Award for the Best Special Issue This special issue of Poetics Today explores the development of a South African literary identity in the face of its staggering cultural historical and linguistic diversity The collection uses the idea of the global imaginary to explore the ways the outside world has constructed ideas about South African literature as well as the way South Africans themselves have fashioned their literary selfhood Articles address the legacy of colonialism and apartheid and wrestle with the fact that in spite of the fact that there are eleven official languages in South Africa and that many of the cultures have historically relied on an oral tradition the dominant works continue to be those that are written down in English As de Kock writes in his introduction the collection raises a multiplicity of questions about the colonization of culture There has been a trope of binary pairing he writes between white and black civilized and backward home and exile colonizer and colonized which obscures the richness and complexity of the South African literary tradition This collection promises to at least begin to correct that oversimplification Contributors Louise Bethlehem Jonathan Crewe Dirk Klopper Leon de Kock Loren Kruger Sonja Laden Simon Lewis Peter Merrington Patricia Watson Shariff Pippa Skotnes

Power, Politics and Identity in South African Media Adrian Hadland, 2008 South Africa offers a rich context for the study of the interrelationship between the media and identity The essays collected in this book explore the many diverse elements of this interconnection and give fresh focus to topics that scholarship has tended to overlook such as the pervasive impact of tabloid newspapers Interrogating contemporary theory the authors shed new light on how identities are constructed through the media and provide case studies that illustrate the complex process of identity renegotiation taking place currently in post apartheid South Africa The contributors include established scholars as well as many new voices Collectively they represent some of South Africa's finest media analysts pooling skills to grapple with one of the country's most vexing issues who are we

Revisiting the Global Imaginary Chris Hudson, Erin K. Wilson, 2019-04-02 Manfred B Steger's extensive body of work on globalization has made him one of the most influential scholars working in the field of global studies today His conceptualization of the global imaginary is amongst the most significant developments in thinking about globalization of the last three decades Revisiting the Global Imaginary pays tribute to Steger's contribution to our intellectual history with essays on the evolution ontological foundations and methodological approaches to the study of the global imaginary The transdisciplinary framework of this field of enquiry lends itself to investigation in diverse sites This volume of essays explores practices associated with the reproduction of the global imaginary in such diverse sites as mobile money Irish pubs cyber capitalism urban space music in post apartheid South Africa and global political movements amongst others The Global Art World Hans Belting, Emanuel Araújo, 2009 This is the second publication from the ongoing research series Global Art and the Museum GAM which was initiated in 2001 by German art historian Hans Belting and artist writer and curator Peter Weibel at the ZKM Center for Art and Media in Karlsruhe Germany The last 20 years have seen a rapid globalization of the art world resulting in geographic decentralization and a shift away from a primarily Western perspective GAM's aim is to analyze the effect of these changes on the art market museums and art criticism This volume comprises a collection of essays by experts such as Claude Ardouin Keeper of the African Section of London's British Museum Koeki Claessens Director of Central Africa's Royal Museum and Eugene Tan Director of the Institute of Contemporary Arts Singapore who presented at the 2007 conference Ariel, 2016 English in Africa, 2005 Building a Community on the Zulu Frontier Nokuthula Peace Cele, 2006 Bibliographic Index, 2004 Remembering the Nation, Dismembering Women? Meg Samuelson, 2007 Remembering the Nation Dismembering Women explores the ways in which the imaginative reconstruction of post apartheid South Africa as rainbow nation has been produced from images of women that dismember their bodies and disremember their historical presence From Krotoa Eva and Sarah Bartmann to Nongqawuse and Winnie Mandela Samuelson tackles the figurations of some of the most controversial and significant women in the making of modern South Africa Drawing on feminist postcolonial and post structuralist theory and close textual readings of literary and cultural texts produced during the first decade of democracy her analysis offers a provocative critique of the formation of nationalist and feminist collectivities The book explores the constraints of subjection and the performative power of subjectivity as well as the ways in which women have been able to form collectivities on new terms Book jacket South African journal of psychology, 2005 African Books in Print, 1978 African Studies Abstracts, 2002 Afrikaner Identity After Nationalism Thomas Blaser, 2006 The Other Side of the Story George Mukuka, 2008 Predicaments of Culture in South Africa Ashraf Jamal, 2005 Symptomatic of an emergent shift away from prescriptive and deterministic accounts of change in South Africa Predicaments of culture in South Africa posits an open ended and speculative approach to the question and agency of culture The key question posed by Justice Albie Sachs of the Constitutional Court of South Africa what does it mean to be a South African is shifted from its familiar ontological and epistemological habitat what is identity the better to embrace its ethical and political rider what are identities for and its more pragmatic possibility what can identities do These qualifications Bhabha's form the building blocks that skew and enrich existing presumptions about South Africa's history its present moment and its future Jamal challenges and qualifies the conflicting and contiguous drives of fatalism positivism and relativism which are the dominant claimants upon the South African cultural imaginary It is this critical non positionality that forms the distinctive trait of an inquiry which in eschewing allegiance and closure opens up the debate about what it means to be South African and the role of culture therein In hindsight and with the hither side of the future before us Jamal s driving assumption is that world society is advancing towards yet another age of ignorance an age beyond suspicion and irony in which thought whether self critical or not is no longer the agent of reason Jamal calls for an urgent reappraisal of the absence of love of lovelessness which he sees as the infected root of South Africa s inability to create a positively affirmative cultural imaginary      The Journal of Commonwealth Literature ,2002 Issues for 1965 include section Annual bibliography of Commonwealth literature 1964      The Big Issue, Cape Town ,2006
