Southeast Asian Images Towards A Civil Society:

Southeast Asian Images Jan Anton Niels Mulder,2001     Southeast Asian Images Niels Mulder,2003 This unusual study discloses the public discourse among educated urban Southeast Asians in Thailand Indonesia and the Philippines and considers how these people conceive of their society and its problems and process It examines basic patterns of thought the interpretation of observed behavior the opinions of public intellectuals and the dianoses of novelists Together these provide the basis for evaluating whether or not an activist civil society can develop Because of the muddled situation prevailing in the countries under scrutiny the emergence of a public committed to seems to be a necessary condition for strengthening the society and civilizing the state Will it happen Niels Mulder an independent anthropologist has been actively engaged with life in Java Thailand and the Philippines for more than thirty years and is the author of a number of books     Bijdragen tot de taal-, land- en volkenkunde van Nederlandsch-Indië ,2005 Literatur overzicht issued with v 95     Civil Society Networks in China and Vietnam A. Wells-Dang,2012-07-31 This book brings a fresh original approach to understand social action in China and Vietnam through the conceptual lens of informal environmental and health networks It shows how citizens in non democratic states actively create informal pathways for advocacy and the development of functioning civil societies

Governance in Pacific Asia Peter Ferdinand,2012-01-19 The book examines the political economy of the states of Pacific Asia stretching from Japan to Burma since the end of WWII     HIV/AIDS and the Social Consequences of Untamed

Biomedicine Graham Fordham,2014-11-13 Drawing on the case of HIV AIDS in Thailand this book examines how anthropological and other interpretative social science research has been utilized in modeling the AIDS epidemic and in the design and implementation of interventions It argues that much social science research has been complicit with the forces that generated the epidemic and with the social control agendas of the state and that as such it has increased the weight of structural violence bearing upon the afflicted The book also questions claims of Thai AIDS control success arguing that these can only be made at the cost of excluding categories such as intravenous drug users the incarcerated and homosexuals who continue to experience extraordinarily high levels of levels of HIV infection Considered deviant and undeserving these persons have deliberately been excluded from harm reduction programs Overall this work argues for the untapped potential of anthropological research in the health field a confident anthropology rooted in ethnography and a critical reflexivity Crucially it argues that in context of interdisciplinary collaborations anthropological research must refuse relegation to the status of an adjunct discipline and must be free epistemologically and methodologically from the universalizing assumptions and practices of biomedicine

Buddhism, Power and Political Order Ian Harris,2007-06-11 This volume brings together the brightest minds in the study of Buddhism in Southeast Asia to create a more coherent account of the relations between Buddhism and political order in the late pre modern and modern period     Anthropologica ,2007 Includes reports of meetings of the institute     Business and Human Rights in Southeast Asia Mahdev Mohan,Cynthia Morel,2014-09-25

Business and human rights has emerged as a distinct field within the corporate governance movement. The endorsement by the United Nations Human Rights Council of a new set of Guiding Principles for Business and Human Rights in 2011 reinforces the State's duty to protect against human rights abuses by third parties including business. The corporate responsibility to respect human rights and greater access by victims to effective remedy both judicial and non-judicial. This book draws on the UN Guiding Principles and recent national plans of action to provide an overview of relevant developments within the ASEAN region. Bridging theory and practice, the editors have positioned this book at the intersection of human rights risk and its regulation. Chapter authors discuss the implications of key case studies undertaken across the region and various sectors with a particular focus on extractive industries, the environment and infrastructure projects. Topics covered include due diligence and the role of audits, businesses' responsibilities to women and children, and the mitigation of human rights risks in the region's emerging markets. The book sheds light on how stakeholders currently approach business and human rights and explores how the role of ASEAN States and that of the institution itself may be strengthened. In doing so, the book identifies critical challenges and opportunities that lie ahead for the region in relation to business and human rights. This book will be of excellent use and interest to scholars, practitioners and students of human rights, business and company law, international law and corporate governance.

Southeast Asian Art and Culture Aurora Roxas Lim, 2005

The diverse cultures of Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam, the ten countries of the ASEAN region, evolved basic artistic forms and expressions that closely interface with their history, society and religion. This publication is the result of discussions and exchanges among representative scholars of the ASEAN countries on presenting Southeast Asian art and culture from a contextual Asian perspective. It shows art and culture across Southeast Asia, drawing from similar and yet locally distinct mythical and religious beliefs, cultural traditions, cycles of migrations, trade and political change.
