The Future As If It Really Mattered:

Future: All That Matters Ziauddin Sardar, 2013-10-25 In Future All That Matters Ziauddin Sardar shows that thinking and speculating about the future has always been a part of human history but exploring the futures in a systematic and scientific way is a recent phenomenon. What is known variously as futures studies, futurology or foresight only emerged as a discipline during the last few decades. The study of the future however is not only about predicting or forecasting the future which is always a perilous exercise. It is also about appreciating the potentials and possibilities as well as risks and threats lurking over the horizon. It can enable us both to avoid the dangers as well as shape a viable and desirable future. This book explores the exciting field of futures studies and shows how knowledge of the future is acquired and put into practice. We examine various methods for studying the future with the emphasis not so much on predicting specific events but on delineating alternative paths to the future. We look at some celebrated readings of the future as well as case studies where exploration of the future has been used to shape policy and planning in businesses and communities, international organisations and regional institutions and interest and lobby groups. Finally the book suggests why and how in an increasingly complex, uncertain and diverse world the study of the future can help people recover their agency and help them to create the world in which they wish to live. This accessible and readable book will appeal both to students and general readers giving a fascinating introduction to thinking about the future and what matters most about it.

What Really Matters? Anita Torabi PhD, 2016-07-30 In this short yet fascinating book you will read about everything that is important or even critical to us turns out to be less and less important over time. We do not know what really matters in our lives. One day we are happy, by the next we are sad or worried. When we are in a specific time, place and condition we think that certain issues are important and critical and assign them a value. You alone have the right to choose the best path to a peaceful and enjoyable life. You can be in any kind of position or have any level of income and be happy regardless of what goes around you. If you have never given yourself time to think about your life and what you are doing this is the right time to do so. This is the particular time that you can ask yourself if you are on the path that leads you to where you want to be and whether you are enjoying your life. Ask yourself if you have a forgotten passion that is burning inside you a love for anything in this world that can take you to a higher level of energy and eagerness. Find your passion today and decide to live a meaningful life that is free of fear.

Campaigns That Matter Jay Wendland, 2017-06-30 Every four years Americans are inundated with campaign activities from candidates attempting to become the next president of the United States. An under-researched area of these campaign activities are campaign visits, rallies, town hall meetings and candidate meet and greets. For example, Almost all candidates conduct visits yet we do not have a good understanding of how they affect voters. Wendland tackles four big questions throughout Campaigns That Matter: 1. Do campaigns matter? 2. Are campaign visits strategic? 3. Do visits help mobilize voters? 4. Do visits impact candidate preference? Using a unique set of data that includes all visits conducted throughout the 2008 2012 and 2016 presidential nominating contests Wendland explores how these visits affected voters compared to traditional measures of advertisements campaign spending and momentum In doing so Wendland has provided us with a more comprehensive picture of how voters make decisions in the voting booth What Really Matters Arthur Kleinman,2007 Through arresting narratives we meet a woman aiding refugees in sub Saharan Africa facing the chaos of a meaningless society and a doctor trying to stay alive during Mao s cultural revolution individuals challenged by their societies and caught up in existential moral experiences that define what it means to be human Classic Questions and Contemporary Film Dean A.
