Schmidt,Niels Fold

South East Asia A Social Economic:

South-east Asia: a Social, Economic, and Political Geography Charles Alfred Fisher,1964 South East Asia: a Social Economic and Political Geography Charles A. Fischer,1971 South East Asia in the World-Economy Chris J. Dixon,1991-07-26 South East Asia has for many centuries occupied a pivotal position in the wider Asian economy linking China and the Far East with India and the Middle East and since the early 1500s the region has also played a major role in the world economy South East Asia in the World economy is a textbook survey of the area's interaction with these wider regional and international structure Professor Chris Dixon demonstrates how this region's role has undergone frequent and profound change as a result of the successive emergency and dominance of mercantile industrial and finance capital He shows how the region has developed as a supplier of luxury product such as spices as a producer of bulk primary products and how since the mid 1960s it has become a major recipient of investment and a favoured location for European and American markets The author examines how these phases in the evolution of the international economy have been reflected in the relations of evolution of the production and in the spatial pattern of economic activity He also discusses how the progressive integration of South East Asia in the world economy has established the dominance of a small number of core areas and produced a pattern of uneven development throughout the region In a concluding chapter Chris Dixon explores the prospects for South East Asia in the 1990s in the light of the restructuring of the world economy

The Economic Development of South-East Asia C. D. Cowan,2012 First published in 1964 The Economic Development of South East Asia Studies in economic history and political economy contains eight papers originally written for a study group at the School of Oriental and African Studies in London The papers edited by Professor C D Cowan are written against a background of economic underdevelopment in large parts of Asia Economic problems increasingly plagued the governments of Asia after the Second World War and while Western governments were willing to help foster economic development relations with Asian governments were somewhat hindered by the heritage of their colonial past Problems also related to the growth of traditional trading ports and export crops and to the importation of colonial regimes western funds and skills in the nineteenth century Such developments come under the loosely generalised concept of imperialism with its strongly emotional overtones whose use impedes the objective assessment and analysis of facts While we understand a good deal about conditions of economic growth in the West much of what has fostered or retarded growth in other parts of the world remains less clear

South and Southeast Asia Educational Materials Center (U.S.),1966 Making of Southeast Asia Amitav Acharya,2003-08-01 Amitav Acharya has written a splendidly ambitious book Travelling from the discipline of International Relations to the historiography of Southeast Asia and back again it draws upon a range of methodologies to analyse the issue of identity in the configuration of Southeast Asia But it provides more than an academic assessment With this book Acharya must be judged to have contributed not just to the study of Southeast Asian regionalism but to the process itself Anthony

Milner Basham Professor of Asian History Australian National University The Political Economy of Southeast Asia
Toby Carroll, Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones, 2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations institutions and time periods thereby continually enriching itself No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text Professor Amitav Acharya American University USA This book the fourth in a path breaking series demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia's transformation Across a wide range of topics the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies economies and politics of a diverse group of countries casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read Professor Edward Aspinall Australian National University Australia This book does what a work on political economy should do challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation This volume is distinctive in three ways First it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national regional and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance mass politics economies labor capital relations migration and gender relations across the region Second it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia's political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China's pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia Professor Adam David Morton University of Sydney Australia A vital book for all scholars students and practitioners concerned with political economy and development this volume combines cutting edge theory with rich and wide ranging empirical analysis It is terrific to see the continued success of this book with this fully revised fourth edition Professor Nicola Philips Kings College London UK The Political Economy of Southeast Asia has become a leading reference for students of the region With its breadth of geographic scope timely themes clarity of prose and rigour of analysis Carroll Hameiri and Jones have ensured that with this fourth edition the volume will continue its landmark status The book which brings together prominent experts in the field will not only be of immense interest to scholars studying Southeast Asia but also those seeking to understand the multifaceted nature of the political economy of uneven development in contemporary capitalism Professor Susanne Soederberg Queen s University Canada The Asia Research Centre at Murdoch University has long produced leading analyses of the social economic and political developments in Southeast Asia This volume carries on that wonderful tradition It brings together top class scholars to challenge our assumptions about one of the most dynamic parts of the world This collection is a crucial read for anyone interested in understanding trends in Southeast Asia s development today and into the future Professor Richard Stubbs McMaster University Canada This fourth volume in a distinguished series provides a welcome and timely update of the Murdoch School s distinctive approach to understanding the evolving political economy of Southeast Asia Its theoretical depth and wide empirical scope will be of great value to scholars students and practitioners seeking a systematic understanding of the political economy dynamics in the Asian region and more broadly of states and regions embedded in a complex unstable global political economy Professor Andrew Walter University of Melbourne This all new fourth edition of The Political Economy of Southeast Asia constitutes a state of the art comprehensive analysis of the political economic social and ecological development of one of the world s most dynamic regions With contributions from world leading experts the volume is unified by a single theoretical approach the Murdoch School of political economy which foregrounds struggles over power and resources and the evolving global context of hyperglobalisation Themes considered include gender populism the transformation of the state regional governance aid and the environment The volume will be of interest to scholars and students across multiple disciplines including political economy development studies international relations and area studies The findings of contributors will also be of value to civil society policymakers and anyone interested in Southeast Asia and its development

A History of Southeast Asia Anthony Reid,2015-03-03 2016 PROSE Award Honorable Mention for Textbook in the Humanities A

History of Southeast Asia Critical Crossroads presents a comprehensive history of Southeast Asia from our earliest knowledge of its civilizations and religious patterns up to the present day Incorporates environmental social economic and gender issues to tell a multi dimensional story of Southeast Asian history from earliest times to the present Argues that while the region remains a highly diverse mix of religions ethnicities and political systems it demands more attention for how it manages such diversity while being receptive to new ideas and technologies Demonstrates how Southeast Asia can offer alternatives to state centric models of history more broadly Part of The Blackwell History of the World Series The goal of this ambitious series is to provide an accessible source of knowledge about the entire human past for every curious person in every part of the world It will comprise some two dozen volumes of which some provide synoptic views of the history of particular regions while others consider the world as a whole during a particular period of time The volumes are narrative in form giving balanced attention to social and cultural history in the broadest sense as well as to institutional development and political change Each provides a systematic account of a very large subject but they are also both imaginative and interpretative The Series is intended to be accessible to the widest possible readership and the accessibility of its volumes is matched by the style of presentation and production Social Change in South East Asia Jacques Hersh,Johannes Dragsbaek Schmidt,Niels Fold,2018-10-08 Provides a comprehensive and in depth examination of the ongoing process of development and societal transformation in a dynamic region of the Third World Written by a team of specialists from the fields of development studies sociology and political economy the book looks at some of the fundamental problems facing South East Asia by addressing the following issues the social constellations class culture and political legitimization and industrialisation and labour regulation Southeast Asia in the Global Economy Helen E S Nesadurai,J Soedradjad

Djiwandono,2009 While economic globalization benefited Southeast Asia especially during the 1990s boom the region now seems to be caught between two emerging economic giants China and India What challenges and opportunities does the rise of China and India pose for Southeast Asia and how should policy makers respond Are bilateral free trade arrangements and bilateral economic partnerships a boon or bane for competitiveness In identifying approaches and strategies to coping with these challenges and leveraging on the opportunities available this book also links the quest for competitiveness with the necessity of social protection The link comes in the form of the people who work for firms as human resources and as users and innovators of technology The book acknowledges and discusses the problems of inadequate technological and innovative capacity and the problems of managing labour productivity in Southeast Asia However the book also cautions against focusing on people solely as productive labour whether in production or the knowledge sector By highlighting the adverse social economic and political consequences of ignoring social protection issues and challenging the myth that addressing social protection undermines competitiveness the book emphasizes the social responsibilities incumbent on governments and firms in this age of growing economic insecurities Economic Factors in Southeast Asian Social Change Robert Van Niel,1968 Compilation of conference papers on the interrelationship of economic development and social change in South East Asia with particular reference to Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines covers sociological aspects of marketing social integration in the urban area environment urbanization obstacles to investment rural development programmes transport cultivation techniques etc and includes case studies References Conference held in los angeles 1967 June 15 to 17

Trends of Economic Development in East Asia Wolfgang Klenner,2012-12-06 The economic success achieved in the last decade in East Asia has brought about a fundamental reorientation in the Western view of the region In order to contribute to a better understanding of present events and future developments in the area leading East Asia economists and men of experience in Asian business from Asia America and East and West Europe have written papers on their research or business fields for this volume The individual articles deal with problems common to the East Asian region and the Pacific area as well as with specific economic problems of Japan China and South Korea The volume is divided into four parts East Asia and the Pacific Basin includes articles on supra national issues for example on the international economic relations of Japan China Taiwan and Korea Japan includes articles on Japanese industrial and business structure technological policy exports and other issues China includes articles on structural change economic reforms fiscal policy agriculture and other issues Korea includes articles on economic and industrial policy restructuring protectionism and other issues The occasion of the publication of this volume is the 70th birthday of Willy Kraus who for many years has been actively concerned with the questions of development in the East Asian region

The Peoples of Southeast Asia Today Robert L. Winzeler,2010-01-16

The Peoples of Southeast Asia Today offers an anthropological treatment of the ethnography and ethnology of Southeast Asia covering both the mainland and the insular regions Based on the proposition that Southeast Asia is a true culture area the book offers background information on geography languages prehistory and history with a particular emphasis on the role of colonialism and the development of ethnic pluralism It then turns to classic anthropological topics of interest including modes of adaptation ways of life and religion all illustrated with relevant case studies and all brought up to date to show what is happening now Students will find well supported discussions of subjects ranging from the development of agriculture and language dispersals to fantasy and reality in hunter gatherer studies to disputed interpretations of Thai Buddhism and Javanese Islam to ongoing government efforts to manage religion create proper citizens resettle and assimilate indigenous populations end shifting cultivation and promote modernization

The Sociology of Southeast Asia Victor T. King,2008

One of the main problems faced by teachers and students who have a scholarly interest in Southeast Asia is the lack of general user friendly texts in the social sciences The absence of an introduction to the sociology of Southeast Asia is especially unfortunate This volume attempts to meet these needs This is then the first sole authored introductory sociology text on Southeast Asia that focuses on change and development in the region provides an overview of the important sociological and political economy writings and considers the key concepts and themes in the field since 1945 Some multiauthored works do exist but these either are outdated or focus on specialized topics Aimed primarily at undergraduates up to the final year it will also be a useful reference work for post graduates and researchers who lack such a general work

A Research Agenda for East Asian Social Policy Misa Izuhara,2023-01-20 Since the turn of the millennium significant social economic political and technological transformations have brought policy issues to prominence in East Asian societies This topical Research Agenda finds East Asian social policy at a critical juncture and analyses the driving forces that are shifting contemporary research and diverse policy responses in the region New Social Policy Agendas for Europe and Asia Katherine Marshall, Olivier Butzbach, 2003 The East Asia crisis of 1997-98 highlighted the need for new models for social policy. A joint project between European and Asian governments brought together over a two year period the experience of social policy experts from Europe and Asia. This project was financed by the ASEM Asia-Europe Meeting. This document looks at a wide range of issues: social security reform, links between macroeconomics and social policy, labour market policies, gender relations and cross border migration. Inspired by European experience in similar fields and focusing on ideas and knowledge exchange, the project worked to develop papers and seminars to produce this book.
