South Of Tradition Essays On African American Literature:

South of Tradition Trudier Harris, 2010-04-15 With characteristic originality and insight Trudier Harris Lopez offers a new and challenging approach to the work of African American writers in these twelve previously unpublished essays. Collectively the essays show the vibrancy of African American literary creation across several decades of the twentieth century. But Harris Lopez's readings of the various texts deliberately diverge from traditional ways of viewing traditional topics. South of Tradition focuses not only on well known writers such as Zora Neale Hurston, Ralph Ellison, James Baldwin, and Richard Wright but also on up and coming writers such as Randall Kenan and less known writers such as Brent Wade and Henry Dumas. Harris Lopez addresses themes of sexual and racial identity, reconceptualizations of and transcendence of Christianity, analyses of African American folk and cultural traditions and issues of racial justice. Many of her subjects argue that geography shapes identity whether that geography is the European territory many blacks escaped to from the oppressive South or the South itself where generations of African Americans have had to come to grips with their relationship to the land and its history. For Harris Lopez, south of tradition refers both to geography and to readings of texts that are not in keeping with expected responses to the works. She explains her point of departure for the essays as a slant, an angle, or a jolt below the line of what would be considered the norm for usual responses to African American literature. The scope of Harris Lopez's work is tremendous. From her coverage of noncanonical writers to her analysis of humor in the best selling The Color Purple, she provides essential material that should inform all future readings of African American literature.

Depictions of Home in African American Literature Trudier Harris, 2021-12-06 In Depictions of Home in African American Literature, Trudier Harris analyzes fictional homespaces in African American literature from those set in the time of slavery to modern urban configurations of the homespace. She argues that African American writers often inadvertently create and follow a tradition of portraying dysfunctional and physically or emotionally violent homespaces. Harris explores the roles race and religion play in the creation of homespaces and how geography, space, and character all influence these spaces. Although many characters in African American literature crave safe, happy homespaces and frequently carry such images with them through their mental or physical migrations, few characters experience the formation of healthy homespaces by the end of their journeys. Harris studies the historical, cultural, and literary portrayals of the home in works from well known authors such as Richard Wright, James Baldwin, Toni Morrison, and August Wilson, as well as lesser studied authors such as Daniel Black, A.J. Verdelle, Margaret Walker, and Dorothy West. The Geographies of African American Short Fiction Kenton Rambsy, 2022-03-25 Perhaps the brevity of short fiction accounts for the relatively scant attention devoted to it by scholars who have historically concentrated on longer prose narratives. The Geographies of African American Short Fiction seeks to fill this gap by analyzing the ways African American short story writers plotted a diverse range of characters across multiple locations: small towns, a famous metropolis, city sidewalks, a rural wooded area, apartment buildings, a pond, a general store, a prison and more In the process these writers highlighted the extents to which places and spaces shaped or situated racial representations Presenting African American short story writers as cultural cartographers author Kenton Rambsy documents the variety of geographical references within their short stories to show how these authors make cultural spaces integral to their artwork and inscribe their stories with layered and resonant social histories The history of these short stories also documents the circulation of compositions across dozens of literary collections for nearly a century Anthology editors solidified the significance of a core group of short story authors including James Baldwin Toni Cade Bambara Charles Chesnutt Ralph Ellison Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright Using quantitative information and an extensive literary dataset The Geographies of African American Short Fiction explores how editorial practices shaped the canon of African American short fiction

Encyclopedia of the Environment in American Literature

Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones, 2014-01-10 This encyclopedia introduces readers to American poetry fiction and nonfiction with a focus on the environment broadly defined as humanity's natural surroundings from the discovery of America through the present. The work includes biographical and literary entries on material from early explorers and colonists such as Columbus, Bartolome de Las Casas and Thomas Harriot. Native American creation myths, canonical 18th and 19th century works of Jefferson, Emerson, Thoreau, Whitman, Hawthorne, Twain, Dickinson, and others, to more recent figures such as Jack London, Ernest Hemingway, Norman Mailer, Stanley Cavell, Rachel Carson, Jon Krakauer, and Al Gore. It is meant to provide a synoptic appreciation of how the very concept of the environment has changed over the past five centuries, offering both a general introduction to the topic and a valuable resource for high school and university courses focused on environmental issues.

Contemporary Authors, 2005 Concise Encyclopedia of Latin American Literature Verity Smith, 2000 Contains approximately two hundred alphabetically arranged entries that provide information about Latin American literature, covering topics, countries, authors, and representative works. Includes a general reading list as well as title and general indexes. The International Fiction Review, 2005 African American Literature Al Young, 1996 These brief anthologies of ethnic American literature are ideal for ethnic, multicultural, and American literature courses. They are designed to introduce undergraduates to the rich but often neglected literary contributions of established and newer ethnic writers to American literature. Each text is organized chronologically by genre and represent a wide range of literature.

Afro-American Literature and Culture Since World War II Charles D. Peavy, 1979 ALA Bulletin, 2004 Toni Morrison Solomon Ogbede Iyasere, Marla W. Iyasere, 2010 Examines the individual author's entire body of work and on his/her single works of literature. New Essays on the African American Novel Lovalerie King, Linda F. Selzer, 2008-05-15 This collection contributes to and advances scholarly discussions about the African American novel as a literary form. Essays respond to the general question what has been the impact of the African American vernacular tradition from the spirituals, blues, gospel, and jazz to hip hop on the structure and style of the modern African American novel. American Studies, 2004
