South Africa, 1994      Strategic Minerals U S Government Accountability Office (G, U. S. Government Accountability Office), 2013-06 Pursuant to a congressional request GAO provided information regarding U S dependence on South African strategic minerals GAO found that 1 the Comprehensive Anti Apartheid Act of 1986 prohibited U S imports of 10 strategic minerals from South Africa unless there were no other reliable and secure suppliers and the minerals were essential for the U S economy or defense 2 each of those 10 strategic minerals had some direct or indirect military application 3 in 1987 the United States significantly depended on imports to supply the minerals and 4 South Africa is a major world producer and contains a very large reserve of several of the strategic minerals GAO also found that 1 the United States increased imports of some strategic minerals from South Africa and decreased others between 1983 and 1987 2 South Africa is the sole supplier to the United States of one of the strategic minerals 3 alternative supply sources exist for all but two of the minerals and 4 the cumulative direct economic cost of a U S embargo on South Africa for six of the minerals would total 9.25 billion for 1988 through 1992 In addition GAO found that the Department of State is developing a program which considers substitution conservation alternative suppliers and economic stockpiles and private inventories to reduce U S dependence on South African strategic minerals      South Africa Strategic Minerals C Van Rensburg W (J.), 1977      Diverse Facets of Strategic Minerals in South Africa Theo Beukes, 1980      No Crisis Michael Shafer, 1983      Effective Sanctions on South Africa George W. Shepherd, 1991-03-22 This work as its title suggests is a testament to the fact that economic sanctions are effective instruments of change in South Africa George W Shepherd Jr and the other contributing writers provide us with a glimpse inside South Africa as well as a reflection of the emerging humanitarian global system Shepherd and the others demonstrate both theoretically and empirically important lessons in the use and effectiveness of international and nongovernmental economic sanctions in influencing the internal affairs of other nations in order to limit human rights violations After an introductory chapter on effective sanctions and the economic impact in South Africa contributed chapters demonstrate that the international legal basis for racial equality in the world is not spent Others point to the role of nongovernmental organizations in pressuring corporations and banks the possibility of influencing ruling elites the shift in U S policy to include sanctions in its anti apartheid stance and the replacement of Western military support of apartheid by growing international economic prohibition of new investments and limitations of trade Most significantly this book shows how the economy and politics of South Africa have been moved toward negotiations by both external and internal anti apartheid pressures This important new book concludes with a thorough bibliography and helpful indices that document the actions taken against South Africa
