Subjective Criticism David Bleich, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1981 The meaning and objectives of literature argues David Bleich are created by the reader who depends on community consensus to validate his or her judgements Bleich proposes that the study of English be consciously reoriented from a knowledge finding to a knowledge making enterprise This involves a new explanation of language acquisition in childhood a psychologically disciplined concept of linguistic and literary response and a recognition of the intellectual authority of pedagogical communities to originate and establish knowledge Amplifying his theoretical model with subjective responses drawn from his own classroom experience Bleich suggests ways in which the study of language and literature can become more fully integrated with each person's responsibility for what he or she knows Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture Autobiographical Biblical Criticism , 2019-05-21 The autobiographical turn in biblical criticism reveals the interpreter's I and reclaims it as an essential critical category issuing a challenge to traditional objective criticism Pioneers in the field have contributed essays both practical and theoretical They offer stimulating autobiographical re-readings of Hebrew Bible and New Testament texts and address hermeneutical issues that are at stake in this young field of criticism Readings and Feelings David Bleich, 1975 Criticism, True and False, Or, The Present State of the Deuteronomy Controversy Gavin Carlyle, 1879 Outlines of Textual Criticism Applied to the New Testament Charles Edward Hammond, 1884 Four Egyptian Literary Critics David Semah, 2023-10-16 Arabic literature is noted for its tradition conscious consistency and sophistication In the classical period poetry and prose reached a high level of refinement and attained standards which are still being applied in the modern Arab world today The literature of the modern post classical period is no less sophisticated being a vibrant and flourishing expression of the continued Arabic tradition The series Studies in Arabic Literature Supplements to the Journal of Arabic Literature founded in 1971 is concerned with all kinds of literary expression in Arabic including the oral and vernacular traditions of both the modern and the classical periods Studies in the series can be literary historical analytical or comparative in nature and can treat of individual works authors and genres as well as literary traditions in a wider context Studies dealing with the social political and philosophical backgrounds of Arabic literature are particularly welcome in the series The series comprises monographs thematic collections of articles handbooks textual editions and annotated translations Text editions are as a rule accompanied by a translation on facing pages both text editions and translations should include comprehensive critical introductions which give a full and proper appreciation of the text or texts in question
