Sudan Contested National Identities:

The Sudan Ann Mosely Lesch, 1998 This highly informative work digs into the intricate history of Sudanese politics Lesch brings a welcome clarity to Sudan's tangle of political ethnic and religious problems by concentrating on the country's central dilemma the inability of its leaders to negotiate a common definition of nationhood Foreign Affairs the first correct account of what took place after independence Robert O Collins The Sudan is torn by ethnic and religious conflict centered on the struggle over the definition of the Sudanese nation state Is the Sudan primarily Arab or African by culture and ethnicity Should the political system privilege Islamic legal codes or accord equal citizenship to persons of all faiths Ann Mosely Lesch provides a comprehensive and even handed analysis of the unresolved struggle for a stable political system and a unified national identity

The Root Causes of Sudan's Civil Wars Douglas Hamilton Johnson, 2003 Sudan's post independence history has been dominated by political and civil strife Most commentators have attributed the country's recurring civil war to either to an age old racial divide between Arabs and Africans or to recent colonially constructed inequalities This book attempts a more complex analysis briefly examining the historical political economic and social factors which have contributed to periodic outbreaks of violence between the state and its peripheries In tracing historical continuities it outlines the essential differences between the modern Sudan's first civil war in the 1960s and the current war It also looks at the series of minor civil wars generated by and contained within the major conflict as well as the regional and international factors including humanitarian aid which have exacerbated civil violence This introduction is aimed at students of North East Africa and of conflict and ethnicity It should be useful for people in aid and international organizations who need a straightforward analytical survey

Language, Religion and National Identity in Europe and the Middle East John Myhill, 2006-06-21 This book discusses the historical record of the idea that language is associated with national identity demonstrating that different applications of this idea have consistently produced certain types of results Nationalist movements aimed at unification based upon languages which vary greatly at the spoken level e.g. German Italian Pan Turkish and Arabic have been associated with aggression fascism and genocide while those based upon relatively homogeneous spoken languages e.g. Czech Norwegian and Ukrainian have resulted in national liberation and international stability It is also shown that religion can be more important to national identity than language but only for religious groups which were understood in premodern times to be national rather than universal or doctrinal e.g. Jews Armenians Maronites Serbs Dutch and English this is demonstrated with discussions of the Holocaust the Armenian Genocide the civil war in Lebanon and the breakup of Yugoslavia the United Netherlands and the United Kingdom

The Horn of Africa since the 1960s Aleksis Ylönen, Jan Záhorký, 2017-02-17 The Horn of Africa has long been one of the most dynamic and politically turbulent sub regions on the African continent Host to great ancient civilizations diverse peoples and expansive states the region has experienced massive social economic and political transformations which have given rise to military coups revolutions and intractable ethnic socio economic and religious conflicts This comprehensive volume brings together a team of expert scholars who analyze international regional national and local affairs in the Horn of Africa The chapters demonstrate the intertwined nature of the actors and forces shaping political realities The case studies focusing on Ethiopia Eritrea Somalia Somaliland Sudan and South Sudan eloquently illustrate the complex dynamics connecting the spectrum of political issues in the region The Horn of Africa since the 1960s will be of interest to students and scholars of contemporary Africa and political science Sudan Richard S. Identification in Sudan Mohamed A. Abusabib,2004 It is now widely acknowledged that the issue of Sudan s cultural and political identity is one of the root causes of the Sudanese crisis that has crippled the country since its independence in 1956 and plunged it into a civil war regarded as the longest in Africa Nevertheless this issue continues to be a grossly neglected topic in scholarship concerning Sudan On the other hand the politics of intellectual and artistic production have been inseparable from the pivotal issue of identity ever since the advent of Sudanese nationalism in the 1920s But there has yet been no publication dedicated to the topic of identity as one of the major concerns in modern Sudanese artistic production. This study thus undertakes a critical examination of key discourses concerning the cultural basis of modern Sudanese literature, visual art, music, and dance, and it attempts to highlight their underlying political and ideological orientations. The terms Arabism, Afro-Arabism, Africanism, Islamism, and Sudanism have developed within these discourses as defining concepts describing the country's ethnic and cultural origins, thereby serving as identity constructs. The study also examines the relation between the political and the artistic institutions, as well as the policy of the Islamization of the Arts launched by the present Islamist regime and its outcome. The study may also be viewed as an endeavor to discover within the aesthetic field the missing Sudanese collective memory. Stated otherwise, this is an effort to redeem the lost Sudanese pedigree that has long been deliberately mystified, misconceived, and misconstrued for the sake of certain political and cultural strategies. Another aim of the study is to introduce Sudanese arts and the specific Sudanese aesthetic political debate concerning the topics of culture and identity to both the general reader and specialists, as well as to Africanists in general and scholars of African arts and literature in particular.

From Soldiers to Politicians Jeroen de Zeeuw, 2008. In the transition from war-torn societies to stable multiparty democracies, what is the role of former rebel leaders? Can rebel movements effectively transform themselves from military to political organizations? From Soldiers to Politicians explores when and how militias succeed in reorienting their goals and practices toward legitimate political activities and how external actors can support that practice. The authors present eight theoretically grounded country studies focusing in each on the historical background of the rebel movement, its attempted or successful transformation into a political party, and the factors explaining success or failure. Bridging the academic-policy divide, they identify concrete lessons from previous transformations, processes, as well as options for future international involvement.

Law, Society, and Democracy: Comparative Perspectives Richard D. Schwartz, 2006-10-09. In George Bush's Second Inaugural Address, he stated: "it is the policy of the United States to seek and support the growth of democratic movements and institutions in every nation and culture." Along with such a formidable challenge comes the essential need for scholars and policy makers alike to gain a deeper understanding of the interrelationship between law, society, and culture. Collected from the successful 2005 Syracuse conference of the same name, the papers in this unique issue of The ANNALS zero in on critical studies that focus on other societies which are evolving toward or away from constitutional democracy and a rule of law Not to be confused with Social Darwinism the term legal evolution in this context refers to the development or changes of law and the papers included here demonstrate value free objectivity not labeling the results as either good or bad Rather than offering a prescriptive or claiming a precise forecast this collection of thoughtful research examines the sociocultural foundations on which law is built constructing the groundwork for the advancement of policy and further exploration in this intriguing area of study The intense research conducted by these authors shines through as they elucidate the patterns of legal development and governmental change in societies abroad Their reports and analysis will help readers understand the diversity of sociolegal systems and divergent paths that have been followed as laws have developed in a wide variety of societies including South Africa Germany Latin America Sudan Saudi Arabia and China Terrorism remains an underlying issue in both a domestic and global perspective Can law contribute to the control of terrorism Are we moving toward global rules of law What are the consequences of transitioning toward democracy The thoughtful papers in this issue address these and other timely topics How can legal evolution be a useful tool for analyzing social change How well does law in any society express and implement the needs of the population What effect do social mores have on the effectiveness of law The complexity of these questions cannot be easily answered However after carefully reviewing the rich collection of ideas gathered in this single issue scholars and policy makers will gain a deeper understanding of the evolution of law and constitutional democracy

Discussion Paper ,2000 African Research & Documentation ,2007 The Rise of the Islamic Movement in Sudan (1945-1989) Mustafa A. Abdelwahid,2008 This work uses Social Movement Theory to explain the increased political power of Islam in Sudan
