The Granite Monthly ,1890      Poland George Kolankiewicz,Paul G. Lewis,1988 This volume in the Marxist regime series focuses on Poland examining and evaluating critically the application of Marxist doctrine in its society assessing its interpretations its successes and failures      The Writings of Bret Harte: In a hollow of the hills and other tales Bret Harte,1896      The Works Bret Harte,1896      The party system. Public opinion. Illustrations and reflections. Social institutions James Bryce Bryce (Viscount),1891      Minority Victory Charles William Calhoun,2008 Shines a spotlight on the overlooked importance of Benjamin Harrison s tight victory over the Democratic incumbent Grover Cleveland foreshadowing the modern campaign by putting a focus on voters pocketbook concerns elevated trade policy and candidate accessibility      The Granite Monthly Henry Harrison Metcalf,John Norris McClintock,1890 Contains articles on the White Mountains and a map      Vers une européanisation des partis politiques? Céline Belot,2005      No Child Left Behind and the Transformation of Federal Education Policy, 1965-2005 Patrick J. McGuinn,2006 Education is intimately connected to many of the most important and contentious questions confronting American society from race to jobs to taxes and the competitive pressures of the global economy have only enhanced its significance Elementary and secondary schooling has long been the province of state and local governments but when George W Bush signed into law the No Child Left Behind Act in 2002 it signaled an unprecedented expansion of the federal role in public education This book provides the first balanced in depth analysis of how No Child Left Behind NCLB became law Patrick McGuinn a political scientist with hands on experience in secondary education explains how this happened despite the country s long history of decentralized school governance and the longstanding opposition of both liberals and conservatives to an active reform oriented federal role in schools His book provides the essential political context for understanding NCLB the controversies surrounding its implementation and forthcoming debates over its reauthorization how the struggle to define the federal role in school reform took center stage in debates over the appropriate role of the government in promoting opportunity and social welfare He places the evolution of the federal role in schools within the context of broader institutional ideological and political changes that have swept the nation since the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act chronicles the concerns raised by the 1983 report A Nation at Risk and shows how education became a major campaign issue for both parties in the 1990s McGuinn argues that the emergence of swing issues such as education can facilitate major policy change even as they influence the direction of wider political debates and partisan conflict McGuinn traces the Republican shift from seeking to eliminate the U S Department of Education to embracing federal leadership in school reform then details the negotiations over NCLB the forces that shaped its final provisions and the ways in which the law constitutes a new federal education policy regime against which states have now begun to rebel and that only by understanding the unique dynamics of national education politics will reformers be able to craft a more effective national role in school reform      The Parties and the Men

The Last Years of the Soviet Empire Vladimir Shlapentokh, Neil F. O'Donnell, 1993-05-30 Between 1985 and 1991 the Soviet Union was shaken to its core by a series of remarkable social and political developments Throughout the period the eminent Sovietologist Vladimir Shlapentokh monitored the revolution and recorded his impressions in a series of essays which were published in major North American newspapers and periodicals Here Shlapentokh collects these snapshots of current events that detail the progression of perestroika and glasnost The essays and accompanying narrative form a kind of political diary reflecting not only the facts of history but the author's perspective as a Soviet Western observer Each chapter focuses on a single year The snapshots from that year are woven together with narrative describing the year's most important milestones including events in Moscow results of new polls new social trends and revelations in the Soviet mass media Surprisingly Shlapentokh concludes that perestroika was not inevitable and that the Soviet Union was not as many scholars assert doomed to collapse The author's unusual perspective is preserved throughout the book since none of the essays including those that predicted future events have been altered to more closely approximate events that actually took place Recommended for scholars of sociology political science and Soviet history     The American Annual Cyclopædia and Register of Important Events of the Year ... ,1873     Report of the Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic in Canada Canada. Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic, 1895     Nineteenth Century and After ,1895     The Socialist Review ,1919     Introduction to Sociology James J. Teevan, 1989     Minds At War Steven Kull, 1988-10-06 What must the mind of a defense policymaker be like Can nuclear Holocaust be rationalized Can reality be subverted by patriotism or competition Can an intelligent person think the unthinkable as a viable possibility This investigation into the psychology of defense planners and cabinet members is interesting and frightening Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
