The Landscape And Architecture Of Wellesley College:

The Landscape & Architecture of Wellesley College Peter Fergusson, James F. O'Gorman, John Rhodes, 2000 Site Matters Carol Burns, Andrea Kahn, 2005-07-08 One of the trends in twentieth century architecture and planning has been to denigrate and ignore the site or larger context both physical and social surrounding a building or set of buildings Focussing on Le Corbusier's designs Site Matters presents that first considered theory and vocabulary for the inevitable reaction against Modernism in planning beginning in the 1960s and swelling through the 1980s as architects and planners alike developed a new appreciation of site reincorporating the wider context into their plans Theoretical essays and empirically grounded pieces combine to provide the language and theory of this re emergence of site looking at Le Corbusier's designs contemporary suburbs and the planning agendas involved at the World Trade Center site Groundbreaking and innovative Site Matters provides valuable theory and vocabulary for planners and architects Site Matters Andrea Kahn, Carol J. Burns, 2020-12-21 In the era of the Anthropocene site matters are more pressing than ever Building on the concepts theories and multi disciplinary approaches raised in the first edition this publication strives to address the changes that have taken place over the last 15 years with new material to complement and re position the initial volume Reaching across design disciplines this highly illustrated anthology assembles essays from architects landscape architects urban designers planners historians and artists to explore ways to physically and conceptually engage site Thoughtful discourse and empirically grounded pieces combine to provide the language and theory to contextualize the meanings of site in the built environment The increasingly complex hybridity of constructed environments today demands new tools for thinking about and working with site Drawing contributions from outside and within the traditional design disciplines this edition will trace important developments in site thinking with new essays on topics such as climate change landscape as infrastructure shifts from global to planetary urbanization debates and the proliferation of participatory site transformation practices Edited by two leading practitioners and academics Site Matters juxtaposes timeless contributions from individuals including Elizabeth Meyer Robert Beauregard and Robin Dripps with original new writings from Peter Marcuse Jane Wolff Neil Brenner and Thaisa Way amongst others to recontextualize and reignite the debate around site An ideal text for students academics and researchers interested in site and design theory Environmentalism in Landscape Architecture Michel Conan, 2000 The papers presented in this volume range from proposals for new design approaches historical analysis of the relationship between the practice of landscape architecture and environmentalism to the theories of early practitioners of landscape architecture imbued by an environmentalist outlook The issues above are addressed through topics as eclectic as the design of American zoos the establishment of the Tennessee Valley Authority road design and maintenance in Texas and criticism of relationships between the words and works of select landscape architects This volume provides a fresh approach to encounters between environmentalism and landscape architecture by reframing the issues through self reflection instead of strategic debate

The Women Who Changed Architecture Jan Cigliano Hartman,2022-03-29 A visual and global chronicle of the triumphs challenges and impact of over 100 women in architecture from early practitioners to contemporary leaders Marion Mahony Griffin passed the architectural licensure exam in 1898 and created exquisite drawings that buoyed the reputation of Frank Lloyd Wright Her story is one of the many told in The Women Who Changed Architecture which sets the record straight on the transformative impact women have made on architecture With in depth profiles and stunning images this is the most comprehensive look at women in architecture around the world from the nineteenth century to today Discover contemporary leaders like MacArthur Fellow Jeanne Gang spearheading sustainable design initiatives reimagining cities as equitable spaces and directing architecture schools An essential read for architecture students architects and anyone interested in how buildings are created and the history behind them Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians,1999 Includes special issues Perspectives for an Architecture of Solitude Peter Fergusson,2004

Catalogue of the Library of the Graduate School of Design, Harvard University Harvard University. Graduate School of Design. Library,1968 Graphic Design for Architects Karen Lewis,2015-06-26 Graphic Design for Architects is a handbook of techniques explanations and examples of graphic design most relevant to architects The book covers a variety of scales of graphic design everything from portfolio design and competition boards to signage and building super graphics to address every phase of architectural production This book combines and expands on information typically found in graphic design information design and architectural graphics books As architectural communication increases to include more territory and components of a project it is important for designers to be knowledgeable about the various ways in which to communicate visually For instance signage should be designed as part of the process not something added at the end of a project and the portfolio is a manifestation of how the designer works not just an application to sell a design sensibility In thinking about architecture as a systematic and visual project the graphic design techniques outlined in this book will help architects process organize and structure their work through the lens of visual communication Each chapter is titled and organized by common architectural modes of communication and production The chapters speak to architects by directly addressing projects and topics relevant to their work while the information inside each chapter presents graphic design methods to achieve the architects work In this way readers don t have to search through graphic design books to figure out what s relevant to them this book provides a complete reference of graphic techniques and methods most useful to architects in getting their work done Staging Urban Landscapes B. Cannon Ivers,2018-10-08 Open urban spaces are an ideal stage for public events An important prerequisite for their design in an increasingly heterogeneous multicultural cityscape is the relationship between design use and social function The book documents both temporary as well as permanent installations of various kinds from the open air courtyard of a museum to the design of a river bank promenade through to a city park
