Miriam Bernard, Thomas Scharf

The Last Refuge:

With Us and Against Us Stephen Tankel, 2018-05-22 In the wake of the September 11 attacks President George W Bush drew a line in the sand saying Either you are with us or you are with the terrorists Since 9 11 many counterterrorism partners have been both with and against the United States helping it in some areas and hindering it in others This has been especially true in the Middle East Africa and South Asia where the terrorist groups that threaten America are most concentrated Because so many aspects of U S counterterrorism strategy are dependent on international cooperation the United States has little choice but to work with other countries Making the most of these partnerships is fundamental to the success of the War on Terror Yet what the United States can reasonably expect from its counterterrorism partners and how to get more out of them remain too little understood In With Us and Against Us Stephen Tankel analyzes the factors that shape counterterrorism cooperation examining the ways partner nations aid international efforts as well as the ways they encumber and impede effective action He considers the changing nature of counterterrorism exploring how counterterrorism efforts after 9 11 critically differ both from those that existed beforehand and from traditional alliances Focusing on U S partnerships with Algeria Egypt Mali Pakistan Saudi Arabia and Yemen against al Qaeda ISIS and other terrorist organizations Tankel offers nuanced propositions about what the U S can expect from its counterterrorism partners depending on their political and security interests threat perceptions and their relationships with the United States and with the terrorists in question With Us and Against Us offers a theoretically rich and policy relevant toolkit for assessing and improving counterterrorism cooperation devising strategies for mitigating risks and getting the most out of difficult partnerships

Critical perspectives on ageing societies Miriam Bernard, Thomas Scharf, 2007-05-16 This important book brings together some of the best known international scholars working within a critical gerontology perspective. Together they review and update our understanding of how the field has developed over the last twenty five years and through the lens of passionate scholarship provide a challenging assessment of the complex practical and ethical issues facing older people and those who conduct research on ageing in the 21st century. The contributions extend the critical gerontological approach conceptually, methodologically and practically. They offer close and scholarly analysis of policies affecting the lives of older people and provide insights into why research is done in particular ways. Special attention is paid to feminist contributions and new approaches to working in partnership with older people, age discrimination and ageism, the impact of neo liberal policies and the passage of various human rights instruments, the re-medicalisation of later life, the participation of older people in research and justice between generations. The editors and contributors offer suggestions for promoting change and an exciting set of visions and perspectives for the renewal and development of critical gerontology in the years ahead. Critical Perspectives on Ageing Societies will be a valuable resource for all students, academics and practitioners interested in ageing and the life course.

From Poor Law to community care Means, Robin, Smith, Randall, 1998-09-01 Recent community care changes have raised fundamental issues about the changing role of the public, voluntary and informal sectors in the provision of social care to older people. They have also raised issues about the health and social care interface, the extent to which services should be rationed and the respective roles of residential care and care at home. From Poor Law to community care sets these debates in the context of the historical growth of welfare services from the outbreak of the Second World War through to the establishment of social services departments in 1971. Based on extensive research on primary sources such as the Public Records Office and interviews with key actors, the book considers the changing perceptions of the needs of elderly people, the extent to which they have been a priority for resources and the possibilities for a policy which combines respect for elderly people with an avoidance of the exploitation of relatives This is an updated second edition of The development of welfare services for elderly people first published by Croom Helm 1985 It is essential reading for practitioners and policy makers interested in gerontology policy studies community care and postgraduate students studying and training in a range of health and social care related professions Correspondence Sir William Fraser,1890 History for Ready Reference, from the Best Historians, Biographers, and Specialists Josephus Nelson Larned,1895 The Truth Seeker ,1893 Political Economy for the People John G.
