relevance for the practice of translation the translation theories currently known as foreignizing and shows that some of these draw on the same nationalist agenda that they try to transcend Moreover the ensuing case study proves that current translation practice is still governed by a nationalist assurance of linguistic and cultural differences This book therefore concludes by calling for a change of perspective in the theoretical and practical approaches to translation Translation should no longer be regarded as a means of delimiting our selves from a national other but as a way to uncover the otherness underlying these alleged selves     The Literary Review Anne Smith, Gillian Greenwood, Emma Soames, Auberon
