State of the art research into the state of the art of occupational health and safety management and inspection Its authors provide awarts and all assessment of the possibilities and limits of regulating health and safety in an increasingly challenging environment A must read for anyone concerned about improving workplace health and safety in the new world of work Eric Tucker York University Canada This book long in gestation provides a profound analysis of the challenge to labour inspection of regulating OHS through a focus on management systems Its detailed analysis of 5 disparate countries is a treasure trove of research providing a rich opportunity for learning across jurisdictions It provides a masterly dissection of the increasingly complex competitive and pared down context of globalisation and then challenges it Recording some successes but more shortcomings it is food for deep reflection by inspectorates and politicians internationally Andrew Hale Hastam UK and Emeritus Professor Delft University The Netherlands Despite the complaints of neo liberal ideologists about the burden on business this book argues that there is no justification for reduced regulation and regulatory surveillance of health and safety at work Drawing on analyses of the role played by labour inspection in Australia Sweden Canada France and the UK the authors provide a timely examination of the contemporary organisational and other challenges it faces with particular reference to the inadequacy of self regulation and the rise of systematic occupational health and safety management Theo Nichols Cardiff University UK An impressively broad and sophisticated study of a critical aspect of OHS regulation This is the best socio legal analysis available of the contexts strategies and practices involved in inspection of approaches to managing health and safety in the face of change Neil Gunningham Australian National University Canberra

Regulating Workplace Risks is a study of regulatory inspection of occupational health and safety OHS and its management in five countries Australia Canada Qu bec France Sweden and the UK during a time of major change It examines the implications of the shift from specification to process based regulation in which attention has been increasingly directed to the means of managing OHS more systematically at a time in which a major restructuring of work has occurred in response to the globalised economy These changes provide both the context and material for a wider discussion of the nature of regulation and regulatory inspection and their role in protecting the health safety and well being of workers in advanced market economies With its comparative nature and empirical studies this book will appeal to OHS policy makers and regulators all over the world as well as students in the field of occupational health and safety regulation internationally

The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada Bob Barnetson, 2010 Workplace injuries are common avoidable and unacceptable The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada reveals how employers and governments engage in ineffective injury prevention efforts intervening only when necessary to maintain standard legitimacy Barnetson sheds light on this faulty system highlighting the way in which employers create dangerous work environments yet pour billions of dollars into compensation and treatment Examining this dynamic clarifies the way in which production costs are passed on to workers in the form of workplace injuries

Disaster Forensics Anthony J. Masys, 2016-09-03 This book aims to uncover the root causes of natural and man made disasters by going beyond the typical reports and case studies conducted post disaster It opens the black box of disasters by presenting forensic analysis approaches to disasters thereby revealing the complex causality that characterizes them and explaining how and why hazards do or do not become disasters This yields systemic strategies for managing disasters Recently the global threat landscape has seen the emergence of high impact low probability events Events like Hurricane Katrina the Great Japan Earthquake and tsunami Hurricane Sandy Super Typhoon Haiyan global terrorist activities have become the new norm Extreme events challenge our understanding regarding the interdependencies and complexity of the disaster aetiology and are often referred to as Black Swans Between 2002 and 2011 there were 4130 disasters recorded that resulted from natural hazards around the world In these 1 117 527 people perished and a minimum of US 1 195 billion in losses were reported In the year 2011 alone 302 disasters claimed 29 782 lives affected 206 million people and inflicted damages worth a minimum of estimated US 366 billion

Making Sense of Intractable Environmental Conflicts Roy Lewicki, Barbara Gray, Michael Elliott, 2003 Despite a vast amount of effort and expertise devoted to them many environmental conflicts have remained mired in controversy stubbornly defying resolution Why can some environmental problems be resolved in one locale but remain contentious in another often carrying on for decades What is it about certain issues or the people involved that make a conflict seemingly insoluble Making Sense of Intractable Environmental Conflicts addresses those and related questions examining what researchers and experts in the field characterize as intractable disputes intense disputes that persist over long periods of time and cannot be resolved through consensus building efforts or by administrative legal or political means The approach focuses on the frames parties use to define and enact the dispute the lenses through which they interpret and understand the conflict and critical conflict dynamics Through analysis of interviews news media coverage meeting transcripts and archival data the contributors to the book examine the concepts of frames framing and reframing and the role that framing plays in conflicts outline the essential characteristics of intractability and its major causes offer case studies of eight intractable environmental conflicts present a rich body of original interview material from affected parties set forth recommendations for intervention that can help resolve disputes Within each case chapter the authors describe the historical development and fundamental nature of the conflict and then analyze the case from the perspective of the key frames that are integral to understanding the dynamics of the dispute They also offer cross case analyses of related conflicts Conflicts examined include those over natural resource use toxic pollutants water quality and growth Specific conflicts examined are the Quincy Library Group in California Voyageurs National Park in Minnesota Edwards Aquifer in Texas Doan Brook in Cleveland Ohio the Antidegradation Environmental Advisory Group in Ohio Drake Chemical in Pennsylvania Alton Park Piney Woods in Tennessee and three examples of growth related conflicts along the Front Range of Colorado s Rocky Mountains
