Social Control and Multiple Discovery in Science Susan E. Cozzens,1989-01-01 Recognition for accomplishment is a major institutional reward in the scientific community thus regulating disputes over credit for discovery can be viewed as an important problem in social control Cozzens examines a well known dispute one that took place with the discovery of the opiate receptor in neuropharmacological research The issues Cozzens discusses priority disputes social control and norms and morals are important throughout the sciences they are crucial factors in the lives of scientists the functioning of scientific communities and the day to day operations of scientific organizations

Theories of Science in Society Susan

E. Cozzens,1990 Sociologists of science have over the past three decades or so learned a great deal about the social organization of scientific communities and about the social construction of scientific knowledge But progress has been relatively modest toward understanding the reciprocal relationships between science and its social political economic organizational and cultural settings How should we think about the place of science in modern societies The essays in this volume present new approaches to this question
