The Baku:

Collective Trauma and the Armenian Genocide Pamela Steiner, 2021-02-25 In this pathbreaking study Pamela Steiner deconstructs the psychological obstacles that have prevented peaceful settlements to longstanding issues The book re examines more than 100 years of destructive ethno religious relations among Armenians Turks and Azerbaijanis through the novel lens of collective trauma The author argues that a focus on embedded transgenerational collective trauma is essential to achieving more trusting productive and stable relationships in this and similar contexts The book takes a deep dive into history analysing the traumatic events examining and positing how they motivated the actions of key players both victims and perpetrators and revealing how profoundly these traumas continue to manifest today among the three peoples stymying healing and inhibiting achievement of a basis for positive change The author then proposes a bold new approach to conflict resolution as a complement to other perspectives such as power based analyses and international human rights Addressing the psychological core of the conflict the author argues that a focus on embedded collective trauma is essential in this and similar arenas

The Transcaucasian Democratic Federative Republic of 1918 Adrian Brisku, Timothy K. Blauvelt, 2021-03-30 The Transcaucasian Democratic Federative Republic TDFR was a unique bottom up and a fleeting display of political unity and federalism among the main Armenian Azerbaijani and Georgian political factions between 22 April 1918 when it declared its independence and 26 May 1918 when it was dissolved and replaced by the three nation states of Armenia Azerbaijan and Georgia Focusing on a crucial but poorly understood moment in the modern history of the Caucasus at the end of the First World War this book offers a systematic contextually rich and multi perspectival Armenian Azerbaijani Georgian Ottoman German British American Italian Bolshevik Ukrainian and North Caucasian account of the TDFR drawing on contributions with the new material from archives in Tbilisi Grozny Yerevan Baku Istanbul Berlin London Washington D C by a new generation of historians and scholars working on the region The book argues that despite its month long existence in this geopolitically volatile region the TDFR with and its federative nature and the various discussions about federalism and federation that it provoked continued to have an appeal for Georgians Azerbaijanis Armenians as well as for the Great Powers well beyond its dissolution Moreover the experience of the TDFR reifies federalism as a key political concept in the modern history of the Caucasus The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Caucasus Survey

Eurasian Politics: Ideas, Institutions and External Relations Mr Tulsiram, Mr Ajay Patnaik, 2013-06-15 The transitional politics of Eurasian space is marked by a constant struggle among three sets of ideas and institutions the 1 is the remarkable resilience of Soviet ideas and institutions 2 an attempt by the regimes of these states to reinvent the historical and cultural traditions of preSoviet periods and third is an attempt by a section of the powerful elite to superimpose Western liberal ideas and institutions There is a strange intertwining of these ideas and institutions This book examines the extent to which the postSoviet politics has departed from the Soviet one What are the new ideational structures emerging in these states and how far have they crystallised into institutions What are the external influences which are shaping the institutions in the Eurasian space And finally what are the various dynamics of geopolitics in this region Experts from various countries will delve into the shifting dynamics of Eurasian politics Engineering ,1884 Diplomatic and Consular Reports.
