Mitchell, 2017 Anthropology is primarily done in the field unlike the laboratory oriented experimental sciences Experimental sciences make their observations in constructed settings that permit variables influencing the outcome of the experiment to be known and controlled In contrast anthropology's object of inquiry like the science of ethology is life experience in its natural setting To understand how people organize their lives both in thought and in action one must settle among them for a very long time The Wape of Papua New Guinea inhabit a mountainous rain forest and live in sedentary villages They are slash and burn horticulturalists marriage is by bride wealth and polygyny is permitted but rare Male status is egalitarian and although the society is hierarchical in terms of sex and age differences both women and the young enjoy higher status than in many other New Guinea societies While most Wape are nominal Christians traditional religious beliefs and practices are of major importance This book concentrates on describing the field work process by giving the reader a feeling of the reflexive nature of this experience It demonstrates not only how the anthropologist proceeds in her or his work but describes the social and psychological context in which that work evolves and how anthropologists respond to it both within oneself and in communication with others While it is a book about the Wape people it is also a book about how one anthropologist tried to understand them It integrates the subjective and objective into a common research method Related to the book the author has published a film Magical Curing and a CD The Living Dead and Dying Music of the New Guinea Wape Provided by publisher      Gender in Amazonia and Melanesia Thomas Gregor, Donald Tuzin, 2001-11 Amazonia and Melanesia are half a world in distance yet their cultures bear similarities in the areas of sex and gender This work looks at ways in which sex and gender are elaborated, obsessed over and internalized fieldnotes of seminal figures Frank Cushing Franz Boas W H R Rivers Bronislaw Malinowski and Margaret Mead and analyze field writings in relation to other types of texts especially ethnographies Unique in conception this volume contributes importantly to current debates on writing texts and reflexivity in anthropology Social Anthropology Edward Hedican, 2012-01-15 This is the first introductory text that focuses on social anthropological research using Canadian examples and perspectives In this groundbreaking new book Edward Hedican provides undergraduate students with a solid background on the theoretical and applied aspects of anthropology while exploring the rich history of the discipline in a Canadian context In ten concise chapters readers are introduced to the basic conceptual building blocks of introductory anthropology in a refreshingly succinct and engaging way With a strong focus on Canadian theory this book includes discussion of evolutionism feminist anthropology marriage and the family and political economy Readings in Anthropology, 1980 Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 Medical practitioners and the ordinary citizen are becoming more aware that we need to understand cultural variation in medical belief and practice The more we know how health and disease are managed in different cultures the more we can recognize what is culture bound in our own medical belief and practice The Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology is unique because it is the first reference work to describe the cultural practices relevant to health in the world's cultures and to provide an overview of important topics in medical anthropology No other single reference work comes close to matching the depth and breadth of information on the varying cultural background of health and illness around the world More than 100 experts anthropologists and other social scientists have contributed their firsthand experience of medical cultures from around the world Contemporary Cultural Anthropology Michael C.
