The Landscape:

Elements of Visual Design in the Landscape Simon Bell, 2013-03 Public concern about the landscape in particular its appearance is increasing all the time For those charged with managing developing or conserving a wide range of landscapes it is a major task to take visual aspects into account Elements of Visual Design in the Landscape presents a vocabulary of visual design structured in a logical and easy to follow sequence It is profusely illustrated using both abstract and real examples taken from a wide range of international locations together with cross referencing between related principles and case studies demonstrating how the principles can be applied in practice The visual aspects of design have often been treated as cosmetic and therefore not meriting attention or purely subjective and therefore open to personal preference Few attempts have been made to explain how we see the landscape in any rational and structured way and to demonstrate how visually creative design and management can be undertaken This book aims to fill that gap Melancholy and the

Landscape Jacky Bowring, 2016-07-07 Written as an advocacy of melancholy's value as part of landscape experience this book situates the concept within landscape's aesthetic traditions and reveals how it is a critical part of ethics and empathy With a history that extends back to ancient times melancholy has hovered at the edges of the appreciation of landscape including the aesthetic exertions of the eighteenth century Implicated in the more formal categories of the Sublime and the Picturesque melancholy captures the subtle condition of beautiful sadness The book proposes a range of conditions which are conducive to melancholy and presents examples from each including The Void The Uncanny Silence Shadows and Darkness Aura Liminality Fragments Leavings Submersion Weathering and Patina Drawing the Landscape Chip

Sullivan, 2013-11-18 This elegant Fourth Edition of Chip Sullivan's classic Drawing the Landscape shows how to use drawing as a path towards understanding the natural and built environment It offers guidance for tapping into and exploring personal creative potential and helps readers master the essential principles tools and techniques required to prepare professional graphic representations in landscape architecture and architecture It illustrates how to create a wide range of graphic representations using step by step tutorials exercises and hundreds of samples Aspiring to the Landscape Petra

Halkes, 2006-01-01 The idea of nature as a cultural construction has been discussed extensively in postmodern theory Less attention however has been paid to the underlying motivations shaping the ideologies of nature in particular the desire to submit to some larger order outside of oneself Aspiring to the Landscape examines this persistent desire and how it is made manifest in contemporary landscape art Four installations of large scale paintings by Canadian artists Eleanor Bond Susan Feindel Stephen Hutchings and Wanda Koop are the focus of Petra Halkes's study The works vary widely in style and iconography but are drawn together by the way they invite a reflection on the troubled relationship between culture and nature and our contradictory and simultaneous longing to conquer and to succumb to nature It is the tension between modern and postmodern interpretations of the subject of nature that makes the theory and the artwork discussed in Aspiring
