1982 she began bringing volunteers and students to the islands off the coast of Port Honduras Belize Since then she has returned many times to excavate sites that reveal the scope and diversity of the trade that passed by water throughout the Maya world In this book McKillop tells the story of the search for the Maya sea traders as well as the story of the traders themselves as it emerges from the excavations In Search of Maya Sea Traders describes the trading port of Wild Cane Cay where exotic obsidian jade gold and other goods including highly crafted pots were traded from distant lands McKillop also tells us about the more coastal inland trade of salt seafood and other marine resources Through the story of her own work and that of her students and volunteers McKillop models both the research design and the field work that are required to interpret the civilizations of the past She includes the adventure of discovery the challenges of working in wild environments from snakes and rising sea levels to falling coconuts and the tedium of daily measured digs in a near tropical setting Through her experiences the reader also gets to know some of the local residents of Port Honduras and Wild Cane Cay descendants of the ancient Maya In Search of Maya Sea Traders will appeal to that part of each of us that longs to explore distant places and cultures in quest of a seldom glimpsed past
