Thrall, 2020-01-21 Mystic Moderns examines the responses of three British authors Evelyn Underhill 1875 1941 May Sinclair 1863 1946 and Mary Webb 1881 1927 to the emerging modernity of the long early twentieth century moment encompassing the First World War As they explored divergent but overlapping understandings of what mystical experience might be these authors rejected claims that modernity's celebration of the secular and rational left no place for the mystical rather they countered sensitivity to a greater reality could both establish and validate personal agency and was integral to their identities as modern women Their preoccupations with the dynamism of human connection drew on prevailing ideas of vital energy or life force developed by Arthur Schopenhauer and Henri Bergson in ways that channeled modernity's erotic energy of change By using their fiction to describe new self authenticating forms of mysticism separate from either the prevailing orthodoxy of establishment Christianity or the extreme heterodoxy of their era's enthusiasm for paranormal experimentation they also contributed to the rise of a generic concept of spirituality Mystic Moderns thus offers historical perspective on contemporary claims for self constructed non institutional spiritual experience associated with the claim I'm spiritual not religious Working as they did within the shadow of the First World War Underhill Sinclair and Webb were in the end attempting to determine what might be of authentic value for a modern age marked by ubiquitous death While not themselves utopian authors each was touched by her era's complicated hunger for the best of all possible worlds Their constructions of how an individual should be and act in the midst of modernity thus simultaneously projected visions of what that modernity itself should become The Collected Prose Works Boris Leonidovič Pasternak, 1947 The Collected Prose, Volume 3: 1935-1950 T. 1920-1970 stands as one of the greatest post war European poets a writer whose painful struggle with the possibilities and limitations of German his native language has helped to define the response of poetry in the aftermath of the Holocaust The writings and aphorisms on poetry and art illuminate the sources of his language he explores the condition of being a stranger in the world the necessity and limitation of discourse enlarging our understanding of the poet and his vocation A spare and reluctant prose writer Celan speaks with a quiet authority that insists on the centrality of poetry in the modern world BOOK JACKET T. S. Eliot's Ascetic Ideal Joshua Richards, 2020-09-07 In T. S. Eliot's Ascetic Ideal Joshua Richards charts an intellectual history of T. S. Eliot's interaction with asceticism This history is drawn from Eliot's own education in the topic with the texts he read integrated into detailed textual analysis Eliot's early encounters with the ascetic ideal began a lifetime of interplay and reflection upon self denial purgation and self surrender In 1909 he began a study of mysticism likely in George Santayana's seminar and thereafter showed the influence of this education Yet his interaction with the ascetic ideal and his background in mysticism was not a simple thing still his early cynicism was slowly transformed to an embrace American
