Learning Process: Undergirded by Biblical Teachings Dr. Constance B. Nealey, 2010-02-09 Educators have a moral as well as a professional responsibility to address the needs of persons entrusted in their care. That moral responsibility involves 1 acknowledging one's Christian conscience which is non-negotiable 2 respecting the Christian conscience of others while taking seriously the educational needs of students and 3 maintaining relationships with varied stakeholders to the extent that they are cognizant of their overall responsibilities to the children and young adults served. My goal in this book is to share strategies for achieving and maintaining improved student achievement. Recognition of the magnitude of all the variables which lie therein led to the formulation of the text The Teaching Learning Process Undergirded by Biblical Teachings. Through this synergy of effort combined with elements of spirituality we shall experience noticeable changes in attitudes, pedagogy and teacher student expectations. Biblical quotations contained herein are from the King James Version. Because of the dismal educational circumstances facing our nation it is imperative that leaders in the school system, teachers, parents, community and governmental leaders and prospective teachers seek to develop a spirit of excellence in our educational institutions. Each of us has a responsibility to God to those whom we serve and to ourselves to safeguard our schools. Where do we go for help? We go to the scriptures one of which is Proverbs 3:5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not to thine own understanding. Where do we start? We begin with faith, hope and love. We must have faith in God, faith in ourselves and faith in our children. There must be a firm hope in what will come tomorrow. Tomorrow comes with positive rewards when there are scriptural acknowledgements. Finally, love places quality into service. When one has love, his/her words and actions are magnified. Love lasts and what it does will last. Love is the greatest gift and has the greatest rewards because God is love. 1 John 4:8. The thesis of the proposed textbook is that the teaching learning process is effective when undergirded by scriptural principles. Stated succinctly, the thesis posits that we should teach and learn the Bible way. Certainly such actions assure positive rewards. Documentary History of Education in Upper Canada, from the Passing of the Constitutional Act of 1791 to the Close of Dr. Ryerson's Administration of the Education Department in 1876: 1841-1843 John George Hodgins, 1897

Bible-Shaped Teaching John Shortt, 2014-12-17 The Bible can and should be an environment in which we live and move and have our being. An environment in which we are shaped by God in different and interrelated ways. As with aspects of our physical environment we may have never noticed many elements of this spiritual environment before or may have only the vaguest sense of their influence. While we may be more familiar with certain elements we may not realize the full extent of their influence or be too preoccupied to see how they relate to form the larger whole of how we are shaped. This book looks one by one at several ways in which the Bible's environment influences us as people and in particular shapes our beliefs, attitudes and practices as teachers in the classroom. It is concerned with helping readers to be at one and the same time faithful to our common calling as educators and faithful to the Scriptures as Christians. How to Study and Teach the Bible Samuel N.
