Teaching Language As Communication:

Teaching Language as Communication H. G. Widdowson, 1978-06-22 H G Widdowson has played an important and pioneering role in the development of communicative language teaching theory. This book develops a rational approach to the teaching of language as communication based on a careful consideration of the nature of language and of the language user's activities. It provides a lucid guide through a subject which is often confused and misrepresented while providing a stimulus to all language teachers to investigate the ideas that inform their own practices.

Handbook of Foreign Language Communication and Learning Karlfried Knapp, Barbara Seidlhofer, 2009-12-15 This volume focuses on how far the policies, principles and practices of foreign language teaching and learning are or can be informed by theoretical considerations and empirical findings from the linguistic disciplines. Part I deals with the nature of foreign language learning in general while Part II explores issues arising from linguistic, socio-political, cultural and cognitive perspectives. Part III and IV then consider the different factors that have to be taken into account in designing the foreign language subject and the various approaches to pedagogy that have been proposed. Part V finally addresses questions concerning assessment of learner proficiency and the evaluation of courses designed to promote it. Key features provide a state of the art description of different areas in the context of foreign language communication and learning, presents a critical appraisal of the relevance of the field, offers solutions to everyday language related problems with contributions from renowned experts.
