History of Operations Research in the United States Army, Volume 2: 1961-1973, 2008 ,2008 Annual Department of Defense Bibliography of Logistics Studies and Related Documents United States. Defense Logistics Studies Information Exchange, 1968 The Routledge Companion to Production and Operations Management Martin K. Starr, Sushil K. Gupta, 2017-03-27 This remarkable volume highlights the importance of Production and Operations Management POM as a field of study and research contributing to substantial business and social growth The editors emphasize how POM works with a range of systems agriculture disaster management e commerce healthcare hospitality military systems not for profit retail sports sustainability telecommunications and transport and how it contributes to the growth of each Martin K Starr and Sushil K Gupta gather an international team of experts to provide researchers and students with a panoramic vision of the field Divided into eight parts the book presents the history of POM and establishes the foundation upon which POM has been built while also revisiting and revitalizing topics that have long been essential It examines the significance of processes and projects to the fundamental growth of the POM field Critical emerging themes and new research are examined with open minds and this is followed by opportunities to interface with other business functions. Finally the next era is discussed in ways that combine practical skill with philosophy in its analysis of POM including traditional and nontraditional applications before concluding with the editors thoughts on the future of the discipline. Students of POM will find this a comprehensive definitive resource on the state of the discipline and its future directions.

Location, Transport and Land-Use Yupo Chan, 2004-10-11 1 Theme and focus Few books are available to integrate the models for facilities siting transportation and land use. Employing state of the art quantitative models and case studies this book would guide the siting of such facilities as transportation terminals warehouses nuclear power plants military bases landfills emergency shelters state parks and industrial plants. The book also shows the use of statistical tools for forecasting and analyzing implications of land use decisions. The idea is that land use on a map is necessarily a consequence of individual and often conflicting siting decisions over time. Since facilities often develop to form a community these decisions are interrelated spatially i.e. they need to be accessible to one another via the transportation system. It is our thesis that a common methodological procedure exists to analyze all these spatial temporal constructs. While there are several monographs and texts on subjects related to this book this volume is unique in that it integrates existing practical and theoretical works on facility location transportation and land use. Instead of dealing with individual facility location transportation or the resulting land use pattern individually it provides the underlying principles that are behind these types of models. Particularly of interest is the emphasis on counter intuitive decisions that often escape our minds unless deliberate steps of analysis are taken. Oriented toward the fundamental principles of infrastructure management the book transcends the traditional engineering and planning disciplines where the main concerns are often exclusively either physical design fiscal socioeconomic or political considerations.

Stochastic Programming Horand Gassmann, W. T. Ziemba, 2013 This book shows the breadth and depth of stochastic programming applications. All the papers presented here involve optimization over the scenarios that represent possible future outcomes of the uncertainty problems. The applications which were presented at the 12th International Conference on Stochastic Programming held in Halifax Nova Scotia in August 2010 span the rich field of uses of these models. The finance papers discuss such diverse problems as longevity risk management of individual investors personal financial planning intertemporal surplus management asset management with benchmarks dynamic portfolio management fixed income immunization and racetrack betting. The production and logistics papers discuss natural gas infrastructure design farming Atlantic salmon prevention of nuclear smuggling and sawmill planning. The energy papers involve electricity production planning hydroelectric reservoir operations and power generation planning for liquid natural gas plants. Finally two telecommunication papers discuss mobile network design and frequency assignment problems.
