Teaching For A Change A Transformational Approach To Education:

Teaching for a Change Norman De Jong, 2001 The wake of school tragedies has forced parents and teachers alike to acknowledge the moral and educational decay of America In a compelling examination of the nature and purpose of God centered education De Jong offers hope to Christian educators He challenges today s secular mindsets including relativism and outcome based education and combats them with biblically grounded principles Can Every School Succeed? Brian K. Creasman, Jesse Bacon, David Franklin, 2018-03-13 The goal of Can Every School Succeed is to aid school leaders in the process of transforming today s schools The book is based on principles that the authors have developed as school leaders through their experience in transforming low performing schools into high achieving schools Many schools begin the transformation process only to fail because they do not identify and communicate the goals for change As schools continue to struggle with the many complexities that they face transformation is needed In response to this this book offers school leaders practical transformation principles that will ensure the transformation process is simple concise and remains focused on creating the best learning environment for students Advising on Governance in Education Association of Education Advisers, 2025-02-28 An ideal book for new or prospective education advisers which focuses on why governance is needed what forms of governance are necessary and how these are implemented in practice As the third instalment of The Education Adviser series it offers essential background reading for anyone involved in advising within the education system Divided into three sections this book details the specifics of governance illustrating the skills knowledge understanding and approaches required for governance advising As a contributed volume it presents a diverse range of perspectives from MAT leaders headteachers key influencers and education advisers at local regional national and international levels Each chapter concludes with the author s analysis of the impact and differences made resulting in a thorough insightful and practical text These case scenarios also encourage readers to reflect and consider integrating these approaches to their own practice Chapter contents include the importance of quality advice for school governors regulatory frameworks across the UK jurisdictions the principles of good governance governance and partnerships the role of governance in transformative change within the school setting Readers will be fully equipped with an understanding of the role of governance in education advising and how this can enhance the educational outcomes of children young people and the overall effectiveness of educational settings Encyclopedia of Diversity in Education James A. Banks, 2012-05-24 Presents research and statistics case studies and best practices policies and programs at pre and post secondary levels Prebub price 535 00 valid to 21 07 12 then 595 00 Lifelong Action Learning for Community Development Ortrun Zuber-Skerritt, Richard Teare, 2013-10-30 This book explains and demonstrates how indigenous communities built on traditional knowledge culture and language can be extended and strengthened by 1 the new integrated methodology of Lifelong Action Learning LAL and 2 new approaches to learning and development as exemplified by the system of GULL Global University for Lifelong Learning

The GULL system harnesses the potential of people to bring about positive change together characterized by self reliance financial independence and cascading learning and benefits to others It is a self directed and self sustainable process of learning and growth The case studies in this book provide evidence that over time economically very poor communities can achieve transformations that bring with them many benefits personally professionally and for the community This book manages to accomplish an almost impossible goal to be both deeply inspirational and highly practical all at the same time

Professor Mary Brydon Miller USA I was sold on this book from the foreword the need to rethink how we think about and do education is emerging as a hot topic among academics Professor Lesley Wood South Africa All development practitioners and students should study this book carefully as should aid bureaucrats and aid donors Dr Chad Perry Australia In this book Ortrun Zuber Skeritt and Richard Teare invite us to re think re evaluate and re create our views of learning Associate Professor Doris Santos Colombia In this new book the authors present challenging and original models for encouraging community and social development work Drawing on a Lifelong Action Learning LAL approach they challenge Western dominated approaches to learning encouraging the development of local solutions for local needs Dr Pip Bruce Ferguson New Zealand By bringing education to the people rather than people to education they create the possibility for real personal organizational and community learning on the ground in developing countries Dr Ron Passfield Australia The genius of this book is its simplicity It provides a sound approach to addressing the holes in our mainstream approaches to education training development and in living together in communities through providing a new understanding of lifelong action learning and how to achieve it through proactively cultivating and passing on local knowledge Dr Frank Thompson Africa I believe this book has the potential to transform the century old teaching and learning paradigm that is failing many countries to one that is futures oriented and transformational in nature This is a book that all educators need to read and to consider within their own learning context Dr Margaret Fletcher Australia This book will be useful to international community developers educators and researchers especially if they are looking for alternative ways of successfully improving living conditions for disadvantaged and subsistence communities Associate Professor Wendy Rowe Canada

No Child Left Behind and the Transformation of Federal Education Policy, 1965-2005 Patrick J. McGuinn, 2006 Education is intimately connected to many of the most important and contentious questions confronting American society from race to jobs to taxes and the competitive pressures of the global economy have only enhanced its significance Elementary and secondary schooling has long been the province of state and local governments but when George W Bush signed into law the No Child Left Behind Act in 2002 it signaled an unprecedented expansion of the federal role in public education This book provides the first balanced in depth analysis of how No Child Left Behind NCLB became law Patrick McGuinn a political scientist with hands on experience in secondary education explains how this happened despite the country s long history of decentralized school governance and the longstanding opposition of both liberals and conservatives to an active reform oriented federal role in schools His book provides the essential political context for understanding NCLB the controversies surrounding its implementation and forthcoming debates over its reauthorization how the struggle to define the federal role in school reform took center stage in debates over the appropriate role of the government in promoting opportunity and social welfare He places the evolution of the federal role in schools within the context of broader institutional ideological and political changes that have swept the nation since the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act chronicles the concerns raised by the 1983 report A Nation at Risk and shows how education became a major campaign issue for both parties in the 1990s McGuinn argues that the emergence of swing issues such as education can facilitate major policy change even as they influence the direction of wider political debates and partisan conflict McGuinn traces the Republican shift from seeking to eliminate the U S Department of Education to embracing federal leadership in school reform then details the negotiations over NCLB the forces that shaped its final provisions and the ways in which the law constitutes a new federal education policy regime against which states have now begun to rebel and that only by understanding the unique dynamics of national education politics will reformers be able to craft a more effective national role in school reform

Learning in Living Color Alora J. Valdez, 1999 Providing a wealth of practical suggestions this book helps teachers use children s trade literature to incorporate multicultural education into a primary grades curriculum The book s first section uses research and theory to address the underlying assumptions of both multicultural and literacy education and offers practical suggestions for implementing effective programs The second section provides integrated language arts activities The third and final section offers an up to date annotated bibliography of quality children s literature which helps students recognize and avoid cultural stereotyping understand the perspectives of others cultures as well as their own and begin their involvement in important
