The Jungian Persona in Shakespeare's works* Aleksandra Vujovic, 2022-01-28 Document from the year 2021 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade A language English abstract This work deals with various characters from Shakespeare's works and analyses them according to the Jungian Art. In the individuation process Shakespeare sides with Jung related to the role and importance of the concept of free will. None of Shakespeare's heroes follow their fate as an externally imposed inevitable chain of events which lead to their doom. Rather it is their lack of self-knowledge and self-control as a sign of their failed individuation that causes their tragic ends. These characters embody a soul which is in many ways great and noble but which has a fatal flaw which plays the role of fate. In Jungian terms fate can be interpreted as unrecognized psychological processes or archetypes that are not dealt with which therefore influence or lead the actions of the ego conscience. Shakespeare explores in depth these flaws to which the tragic hero after an inner conflict fails to attempt to deal with the archetypal psychic forces. The result is that the tragic hero loses his soul, the link to the archetype of Self as both the motivator and the goal of the individuation process. In that regard when we examine for example Othello it is obvious that the cause of his crisis and ruin is psychological and that his intellectual confusion is not the cause but rather the result of the chaos in his psyche. In Jungian terms Othello as the ego consciousness struggles and fails to understand and establish a functioning relationship with both Iago and Desdemona respectively seen as his shadow and anima. The importance of dealing with these archetypes as a means of reaching psychic balance as one of the indicators of a successfully ongoing individuation process is described from a Jungian point of view.

Jung's Reception of Picasso and Abstract Art Lucinda Hill, 2022-03-31 This book explores the nature of Jung's understanding of modern art in particular his reception to the work of Picasso and his striking prejudice shown in his controversial essay of 1932. Offering an important contribution towards understanding Jung's attitudes towards Picasso and modern art the book addresses the impact that Jung's unwillingness to engage in a deeper exploration of modern artforms had on the development of his psychological ideas. It explores and uncovers the reasons for Jung's derogatory view of Picasso and abstract art more generally revealing how Jung was unable to remain objective due to his own complex and equally fascinating relationship with art and the psychology of image making. The book argues that modern art parallels Jung's interests by embracing the spirit of experimentation and using new imagery to challenge creative conceptions which makes Jung's attitudes towards modern art all the more surprising. Jung's Reception of Picasso and Abstract Art will be of great interest to researchers academics and those interested in analytical psychology.
