Status And Groups:

Intergroup Helping Esther van Leeuwen, Hanna Zagefka, 2017-05-17 The aim of this volume is to provide an overview of research from different psychological domains with regards to intergroup helping arguing for intergroup helping as a research area in and of itself Historically research on intergroup relations has largely overlooked helping between groups which combined with the fact that most of the research on altruism and helping has focused on individuals meant that intergroup helping was primarily looked at as deriving from negative intergroup interactions such as ingroup bias or discrimination However over the last decade a small but growing group of researchers started to investigate intergroup helping as a positive social act occurring between and amongst groups With contributions from these expert researchers this volume makes the case that intergroup helping should be studied as a phenomenon in and of itself not as a mere expression of negative intergroup behaviour To advance this argument the first section covers traditional research approaches in which the willingness to help other groups is construed as a form of discrimination Then the second section looks at the reasons why people may be motivated to help other groups Finally the last section explores intergroup helping in real world settings looking at natural disaster responses and the role of morality among other topics demonstrating that intergroup relations can be truly positive Thus Intergroup Helping The Positive Side of Intergroup Behavior informs researchers in positive and group relations psychology about the current state of affairs of research on intergroup cooperation and helping and sets out an agenda for further exploration Tapping into a current trend towards positive psychology it moves away from the traditional view within intergroup relations research of the group as a source of trouble and instead focuses on truly positive intergroup relations with the ultimate goal of promoting real positive behaviour that breaches the intergroup divide Stratification Wendy Bottero, 2005 This book offers an exciting new perspective on differentiation and inequality looking at how our most personal choices of sexual partners friends consumption items and lifestyle are influenced by hierarchy and social difference

Institutional Determinants of Social Inequality Frédérique Autin, Fabrizio Butera, 2016-05-09 Understanding the factors that create and maintain social inequities is a core question in social psychology Research has so far focused on the role of individual stereotyping prejudice and discrimination However there is no such thing as a biased act of prejudiced individuals structural factors in the reproduction of social inequalities Indeed people are immersed in a world and that is the way forward In this research topic we propose to bring together the ideology and practice of the government This can be done by the researcher who is responsible for the work of the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher and the researcher Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning Grading tracking recruitment and ideologies eg meritocracy individualism protestant work ethic shape the psychological experience of disadvantaged people Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the
