Lipsky,2017-06-09 Rising powers often seek to reshape the world order triggering confrontations with those who seek to defend the status quo In recent years as international institutions have grown in prevalence and influence they have increasingly become central arenas for international contestation Phillip Y Lipsky examines how international institutions evolve as countries seek to renegotiate the international order He offers a new theory of institutional change and explains why some institutions change flexibly while others successfully resist or fall to the wayside The book uses a wealth of empirical evidence quantitative and qualitative to evaluate the theory from international organizations such as the International Monetary Fund World Bank European Union League of Nations United Nations the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization and the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers The book will be of particular interest to scholars interested in the historical and contemporary diplomacy of the United States Japan and China

Bowen,1987 This thesis documents the development and application of a branch and bound enumeration algorithm for the selection of an optimal flood control plan An application is presented in which optimal reservoir flood control plans for a three reservoir system are selected Computer program HEC 5 is used to simulate the reservoir system to determine the modified condition flow frequency curves EAD is used to evaluate expected annual damage reductions and the HEC DSS programs are used to manage the large amounts of data required for the computations The branch and bound enumeration algorithm provides a systematic evaluation of plans with the HEC programs and expedites identification of the optimal plan by eliminating the need to evaluate all alternative plans
