The Black Sea Flood Question: Changes in Coastline, Climate and Human Settlement Valentina Yanko-Hombach, Allan S. Gilbert, Nicolae Panin, Pavel M. Dolukhanov, 2006-11-15 Stimulated by Noah's Flood Hypothesis proposed by W. Ryan and W. Pitman in which a catastrophic inundation of the Pontic basin was linked to the biblical story leading experts in Black Sea research including oceanography, marine geology, paleoclimate, paleoenvironment, archaeology, and linguistic spread provide overviews of their data and interpretations obtained through empirical scientific approaches. Among the contributors are many East European scientists whose work has rarely been published outside of Cyrillic. Each of the 35 papers marshals its own evidence for or against the flood hypothesis. No summary or overall resolution to the flood question is presented but instead access is provided to a broad range of interdisciplinary information that crosses previously impenetrable language barriers so that new work in the region can proceed with the benefit of a wider frame of reference. The three fundamental scenarios describing the late glacial to Holocene rise in the level of the Black Sea: catastrophic, gradual, and oscillating are presented in the early pages with the succeeding papers organized by geographic sector: northern Ukraine, western Moldova, Romania, and Bulgaria; southern Turkey and eastern Georgia and Russia, as well as three papers on the Mediterranean. The volume thus brings together eastern and western scholarship to share research findings and perspectives on a controversial subject. In addition, appendices are included containing some 600 radiocarbon dates from the Pontic region obtained by USSR and western laboratories.

The history of Russia Ruben Ygua, 2025-08-20 Traditional methods of studying the past have always given greater importance to nationalist, religious, and moral interests which subordinated the historical fact to the System point of view. That's how we have been educated. The time has come to simplify and show respect for our ancestors striving to know what really happened in the past and not just what they want to inform us about. After so many years of studying History, I came to the conclusion that the best study system is through an impartial, objective Chronology that just put each event in its exact place in time, revealing History without manipulation. This Chronology contains not only purely political facts such as the foundation of cities, the birth of kingdoms and empires, scientific and geographical discoveries, natural disasters, and epidemics; it also includes information on the most different fields of human activity: chemistry, astronomy, geography, mathematics, and so on. In parallel, the chronology is complemented by data that do not belong to a specific date but to an entire epoch; they are each society's generalities, curiosities, customs, the religion of each civilization, inventions or discoveries that cannot be placed in an exact date, etc. The result of all this is one of the most complete chronologies within its reach, periodically updated with the latest archaeological and scientific discoveries, and that transforms the reader into an eyewitness of the past, understanding the relation of geographically distant facts to each other but closely connected in time and influencing unexpected consequences This is something that traditional history has generally ignored when it was not usable A work of this magnitude could not be published in a single book so I have divided it into several collections and the Spanish originals are being translated into French English Italian and Portuguese The chronology goes from prehistory to the present day year by year as far as possible For those who prefer a deeper and more detailed study I have prepared a second chronology day by day this for now covers from 1789 to 1946 divided into five collections      Russell's Magazine Paul Hamilton Payne,1858
