The Box Man

JL Elias

The Box Man:

The Box Man Kobo Abe, 2020-10-29 A spellbinder from beginning to end an edgy masterpiece Chicago Sun Times This is the record of a box man Anonymous and alone the box man peeps out of his cut out eyeholes and watches the world from behind his four cardboard walls At first repulsed by the strange phenomenon of people who have decided to abandon society and live in boxes on the Tokyo streets he has found himself drawn into the anonymity and voyeurism of their life As he becomes obsessed with spying on a young nurse his identity slips away in Kobo Abe's eerie disorienting and seductive masterpiece of unease Funny sad and destructive an invention with its own crazy pull it gnaws at the reader a stunning addition to the literature of eccentricity The New York Times

The Box Man Kobo Abe, 2011-12-14 Kobo Abe the internationally acclaimed author of Woman in the Dunes combines wildly imaginative fantasies and naturalistic prose to create narratives reminiscent of the work of Kafka and Beckett In this eerie and evocative masterpiece the nameless protagonist gives up his identity and the trappings of a normal life to live in a large cardboard box he wears over his head Wandering the streets of Tokyo and scribbling madly on the interior walls of his box he describes the world outside as he sees or perhaps imagines it a tenuous reality that seems to include a mysterious rifleman determined to shoot him a seductive young nurse and a doctor who wants to become a box man himself The Box Man is a marvel of sheer originality and a bizarrely fascinating fable about the very nature of identity Translated from the Japanese by E Dale Saunders

Behind the Great Wall James Whitlark, 1991 This work explores what lies behind the fantastic barrier in a borderland that C G Jung called the unconscious the avant garde writer Kafka termed incomprehensible and Whitlark argues is an entire spectrum of muted awareness

Allegories of Time and Space Jonathan M. Reynolds, 2015-02-28 Allegories of Time and Space explores efforts by leading photographers artists architects and commercial designers to re envision Japanese cultural identity during the turbulent years between the Asia Pacific War and the bursting of the economic bubble in the 1990s This search for a cultural home was a matter of broad public concern and each of the artists under consideration engaged a wide audience through mass media The artists under study had in common the necessity to establish distance from their immediate surroundings temporally or geographically in order to gain some perspective on Japan's rapidly changing society They shared what Jonathan Reynolds calls an allegorical vision a capacity to make time and space malleable to see the present in the past and to find an irreducible cultural center at Japan's geographical periphery The book commences with an examination of the work of Hamaya Hiroshi A Tokyo native Hamaya began to photograph the isolated snow country of northeastern Japan in the midst of the war His empathetic images of village life expressed an aching nostalgia for the rural past widely shared by urban Japanese Following a similar strategy in his search for authentic Japan was the photographer Tatsu Shimei Although Tatsu originally traveled to Okinawa Prefecture in 1969 to document the destructive impact of U S military bases in the region in his characteristically edgy style he came to believe that Okinawa was still in some sense more truly Japanese than the Japanese main islands The self styled iconoclast artist Okamoto Tarō emphatically rejected the delicacy and refinement conventionally associated with Japanese art in favor of the hyper modern qualities of the dynamic and brutal aesthetics that he saw expressed on the ceramics of the prehistoric Jomon period One who quickly recognized the potential in Okamoto's embrace of Japan's ancient past was the architect Tange Kenzō As a point of comparison Reynolds looks at the portrayal of the ancient Shintō shrine complex at Ise in a volume produced in collaboration with the photographer Watanabe Yoshio Reynolds shows how this landmark book contributed significantly to a transformation in the meaning of Ise Shrine by suppressing the shrine's status as an ultranationalist symbol and re-presenting the shrine architecture as design consistent with rigorous modernist aesthetics In the 1970s and 1980s there circulated widely through advertising posters of the designer Ishioka Eiko the ephemeral nomadic architecture of Itō Toyoō TV documentaries and other media a fantasy that imagined Tokyo's young female office workers as urban nomads These cosmopolitan dreams may seem untethered from their Japanese cultural context but Reynolds reveals that there were threads linking the urban nomad with earlier efforts to situate contemporary Japanese cultural identity in time and space In its fresh and nuanced re-reading of the multiplicities of Japanese tradition during a tumultuous and transformative period Allegories of Time and Space offers a compelling argument that the work of these artists enhanced efforts to redefine tradition in contemporary terms and by doing so promoted a future that would be both modern and uniquely Japanese

Thinking Design Through Literature Susan Yelavich, 2019-08-28 This book deploys literature to explore the social lives of objects and places The first book of its kind it embraces things as diverse as escalators coins skyscrapers pottery radios and robots and encompasses places as various as home country cities streets and parks Here fiction poetry and literary non-fiction are mined for stories of design which are paired with images of contemporary architecture and design Through the work of authors such as César Aira Nicholson Baker Lydia Davis Orhan Pamuk and Virginia Woolf this book shows the enormous influence that places and things exert in the world

The Rhetoric of Photography in Modern Japanese Literature Atsuko Sakaki, 2015-10-20 In The Rhetoric of Photography in Modern Japanese Literature Atsuko Sakaki closely examines photography inspired texts by four Japanese novelists Tanizaki Jun'ichirō 1886-1965 Abe Kōbō 1924-93 Horie Toshiyuki b. 1964 and Kanai Mieko b. 1947 As connoisseurs practitioners or critics of this visual medium these authors look beyond photographs' status as images that document and verify empirical incidents and existences articulating instead the physical process of photographic production and photographs' material presence in human lives This book offers insight into the engagement with photography in Japanese literary texts as a means of bringing forgotten subject-object dynamics to light It calls for a fundamental reconfiguration of the parameters of modern print culture and its presumption of the transparency of agents of representation

Contested Spaces, Counter-Narratives, and Culture from Below in Canada Roxanne Rimstead, Domenico A. Beneventi, 2019-02-28 Contested Spaces Counter-narratives and Culture from Below in Canada and Quebec explores strategies for reading space and conflict in Canadian and Quebecois literature and cultural performances posing questions such as how do these texts and performances produce and contest spatial practices What are the roles of the nation city community and individual subject in reproducing space particularly in times of global hegemony and neocolonialism And in what ways do marginalized individuals and communities represent contest or appropriate spaces through counter narratives and expressions of culture from below Focusing on discord rather than harmony and consensus this collection disturbs the idealized space of Canadian multicultural pluralism to carry literary analysis and cultural studies into spaces often undetected and unforeseen including flophouses and slums shantytowns and urban alleyways underground spaces and peep shows and inner city urban parks as they are experienced by minorities and other marginalized groups These essays are the products of sustained high level collaboration across French and English academic communities in Canada to facilitate theoretical exchange on the topic of space and contestation uncover geographies of exclusion and generate new spaces of hope in the spirit of pioneering works by Henri Lefebvre Michel Foucault Michel de Certeau Doreen Massey David Harvey and other prominent theorists of space
