The Big Men:

The Death of the Big Men and the Rise of the Big Shots Keir Martin, 2013-03-01 In 1994 the Pacific island village of Matupit was partially destroyed by a volcanic eruption. This study focuses on the subsequent reconstruction and contests over the morality of exchanges that are generative of new forms of social stratification. Such new dynamics of stratification are central to contemporary processes of globalization in the Pacific and more widely. Through detailed ethnography of the transactions that a displaced people entered into in seeking to rebuild their lives this book analyses how people re-make sociality in an era of post-colonial neoliberalism without taking either the transformative power of globalization or the resilience of indigenous culture as its starting point. It also contributes to the understanding of the problems of post-disaster reconstruction and development projects.

Shakespeare's Big Men Richard van Oort, 2016-06-16 Shakespeare's Big Men examines five Shakespearean tragedies Julius Caesar, Hamlet, Othello, Macbeth and Coriolanus through the lens of generative anthropology and the insights of its founder Eric Gans. Generative anthropology's theory of the origins of human society explains the social function of tragedy to defer our resentment against the big men who dominate society by letting us first identify with the tragic protagonist and his resentment then allowing us to repudiate the protagonist's resentful rage and achieve theatrical catharsis. Drawing on this hypothesis Richard van Oort offers inspired readings of Shakespeare's plays and their representations of desire, resentment, guilt and evil. His analysis revives the universal spirit in Shakespearean criticism illustrating how the plays can serve as a way to understand the ethical dilemma of resentment and discover within ourselves the nature of the human experience.
