It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing. Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built. Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live. As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us Princeton Alumni Weekly, 1966 Architectural Record, 1892 World Architecture, 1990 Petersen's Guide to Architectural Photography Kalton C.
