The Manchester Guardian Biography Of A Newspaper:

Manchester Guardian, 1956 The Manchester Guardian David Ayerst, 1971 History of The Manchester Guardian and the people associated with it The Manchester Guardian William Haslam Mills, 1972 A History of the British Sporting Journalist, c.1850-1939 Stephen Tate, 2020-02-24 At the heart of this text strides James Catton less than five feet tall but a giant in the field of sporting journalism It is the story of his career from boy reporter in 1870s Lancashire to editor of the influential Manchester based weekly Athletic News and then grand old man of Fleet Street sports writing in the 1920s and 30s The book also presents the story of others too the first journalists to turn action into news as raw carnivalesque violent pastimes were replaced by codified and commercialised games Detailing the history of their trade the book searches for the roots of sports journalism pushing for the first time the newspaper reporter to the foreground in the shared history of the press and sport Editorial recruitment training writing styles pay status rivalry and camaraderie technology celebrity the press box the player reporter and drinking culture are all examined as are the values men like Catton claimed sport at its best represented International Bibliography of Business History Francis Goodall, Terry Gourvish, Steven Tolliday, 2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians Making News Richard R. John, Jonathan Silberstein-Loeb, 2015 This book charts the rise and fall of the newspaper as the primary medium for the conveyance of news The book focuses on two of the most influential media markets in the modern world Great Britain and the United States between 1688 and 1995 In 1688 Parliament created institutional arrangements that would hasten the rise of the newspaper as the dominant medium for the circulation of news In 1995 the National Science Foundation commercialized the Internet encouraging an astonishing proliferation of information on all manner of topics including the news Per capita newspaper circulation had been declining for decades partly due to shifting social norms and partly due to the rise of broadcast news The Internet exacerbated this trend partly because it provided a cheaper news source and partly because it quickly became a superior vehicle for advertising a major source of revenue for newspaper publishers for over two hundred years However only rarely has advertising revenue and direct sales covered costs Almost never has the demand for news generated the revenue necessary for its supply Non market institutional arrangements have ranged from direct government subsidies to organizational forms that enabled news organizations to cooperate From a historical perspective the large profits reaped by a handful of newspaper publishers in the post Second World War era were anomalous and in no sense a baseline for public policy Never again will the newspaper be the dominant news medium To guarantee an informed citizenry in the future it is necessary to understand how the news business worked in the past This book is organized around eight essays each written by a distinguished specialist and each explicitly comparative Its theme is the indispensability in both Great Britain and the United States of non market institutional arrangements in the provisioning of news Guardian; Biography of a Newspaper David Ayerst,1971 About the Manchester Guardian ,1920 The Encyclopedia of the British Press, 1422-1992 Dennis Griffiths,1992 Lists in an encyclopaedic format all the information available about the British Press This book provides bibliographic entries on major journalistic figures as well as a chronicle of available newspapers and a summary of trade terminology used English Newspapers Chapters in the History of Journalism H.
