Ralph Erskine

The Lyric Return:

City Songs and American Life, 1900-1950 Michael L. Lasser, 2019 Nothing defines the songs of the great American songbook more richly and persuasively than their urban sensibility. During the first half of the twentieth century songwriter such as Harold Arlen, Irving Berlin, Dorothy Fields, George and Ira Gershwin and Thomas Fats Waller flourished in New York City, the home of Tin Pan Alley, Broadway and Harlem. Many of these remarkably deft and forceful creators were native New Yorkers. Others got to Gotham as fast as they could. Either way, it was as if from their vantage point on the West Side of Manhattan these artists were describing America not its geography or politics but its heart to Americans and to the world at large. In City songs and American life 1900-1950 renowned author and broadcaster Michael Lasser offers an evocative and probing account of the popular songs including some written originally for the stage or screen that America heard and sang and danced to during the turbulent first half of the twentieth century. Lasser demonstrates how the spirit of the teeming city pervaded these wildly diverse songs. Often that spirit took form overtly in songs that portrayed the glamor of Broadway, of the energy and jazz age culture of Harlem. But a city bred spirit or even a specifically New York City way of feeling and talking also infused many other widely known and loved songs stretching from the early decades of the century to the twenties, the age of the flapper, bathtub gin and women's right to vote, the Great Depression and finally World War II. Throughout this remarkable book Lasser emphasizes how the soul of city life as echoes in the nation's songs developed and changed in tandem with economic, social and political currents in America as a whole. Dust jacket flap
