The Magic Of Consciousness Workshops:

The Magic of Consciousness - Workshops Glen Knapé, 2005-03-01 Developing Magical Consciousness Susan Greenwood, 2019-09-30 Offering a new template for future exploration Susan Greenwood examines and develops the notion that the experience of magic is a panhuman orientation of consciousness a form of knowledge largely marginalized in Western societies In this volume she aims to form a bridge of communication between indigenous magical or shamanic worldviews and rationalized Western cultures She outlines an alternative mythological framework for the latter to help develop a magical perception as well as giving practical case studies derived from her own research The form of magic discussed here is not fantastic or virtual but ecological and sensory Magical knowledge infiltrates the body in its deepest levels of the subconscious and unconscious as well as conscious awareness it is felt and understood through the connection with an inspirited world that includes the consciousness of other beings including those of plant animal and the physical environment This is anthropology from the heart rather than the head and it engages with the messy area of emotions an embodiment of the senses and struggles to find a common language of listening to one another across a void of differences The aim is to provide a non reductive structure for the creative interplay of both magical and analytical modes of thought Passion is a motivator for change and a change in attitude to magic as an integrative force of human understanding is the main thread of this work Magical Consciousness Susan Greenwood, Erik D. Goodwyn, 2015-08-20 How does a mind think magically The research documented in this book is one answer that allows the disciplines of anthropology and neurobiology to come together to reveal a largely hidden dynamic of magic Magic gets to the very heart of some theoretical and methodological difficulties encountered in the social and natural sciences especially to do with issues of rationality This book examines magic head on not through its instrumental aspects but as an orientation of consciousness Magical consciousness is affective associative and synchronistic shaped through individual experience within a particular environment This work focuses on an in depth case study using the anthropologist's own experience gained through years of anthropological fieldwork with British practitioners of magic As an ethnographic view it is an intimate study of the way in which the cognitive architecture of a mind engages the emotions and imagination in a pattern of meanings related to childhood experiences spiritual communications and the environment Although the detail of the involvement in magical consciousness presented here is necessarily specific the central tenets of modus operandi is common to magical thought in general and can be applied to cross cultural analyses to increase understanding of this ubiquitous human phenomenon Chips from a German Workshop by Max Müller Friedrich Max Müller, 1875 The Workshop of the Mind Francis Blake Atkinson, 1923
