The Making Of Barnsley:

Making of Barnsley Brian A. Elliott, 2004-10 When published in 1988 The Making of Barnsley was the first published history of the town since Victorian times focusing on the Opere industrial period but with an eye on the present day In this edition new sources provide insight into forgotten subjects such as medical care trades and early industries It also shows us that crime and punishment were an integral part of social history The Making of Barnsley Brian Elliott, 1988-01-01

The Jews-Harp in Britain and Ireland Michael Wright, 2017-07-05 The jews harp is a distinctive musical instrument of international importance yet it remains one of those musical instruments like the ocarina kazoo or even the art of whistling that travels beneath the established musical radar The story of the jews harp is also part of our musical culture though it has attracted relatively little academic study Britain and Ireland played a significant role in the instrument s manufacture and world distribution particularly during the nineteenth and first half of the twentieth centuries Drawing upon previously unknown written sources and piecing together thousands of fragments of information spanning hundreds of years Michael Wright tells the story of the jews harp s long history in the Britain and Ireland Beginning with an introductory chapter describing the instrument Part One looks at the various theories of its ancient origin how it came to be in Europe terminology and its English name Part Two explores its commercial exploitation and the importance of the export market in the development of manufacturing Part Three looks the instrument s appearance and use in art literature and the media finally considering the many players who have used the instrument throughout its long history History, Gazetteer and

Directory of the West-Riding of Yorkshire, with the City of York and Port of Hull, Etc William White (Publisher in Sheffield.), 1837 Pioneers of Modern Craft Margot Coatts, 1997 Pioneers of modern craft profiles key figures in the history of contemporary twentieth century crafts It focuses on the lives and times of prominent individuals who were or became influential throughout the pre and post war periods in Britain such as David Pye Gerald Benney Gerda Flockinger Edward Barnsley and William Staite Murray History, gazetteer, and directory, of the west-riding of Yorkshire, with the city of York and port of Hull William White, 1837 The Railway Chronicle , 1845 The Making of Modern Yorkshire, 1750-1914 Joseph Smith Fletcher, 1918 The English Reports , 1914 *The national encyclopædia. Lowber, Thomas Sergeant, 1871 Creative Economies in Post-Industrial Cities Myrna Margulies Breitbart, 2016-05-13 There has been much written on the new creative economy but most work focuses on the so called creative class with lifestyle preferences that favor trendy new restaurants mountain biking and late night clubbing This creative class flagship cultural destinations and other forms of commodity driven cultural production now occupy a relatively uncritical place in the revitalization schemes of most cities up and down the urban hierarchy In contrast this book focuses on small to medium size post industrial cities in the US Canada and Europe that are trying to redress the effects of deindustrialization and economic decline through cultural economic regeneration It examines how culture infused economic opportunities are being incorporated into planning in distinct ways largely under the radar in many working class communities and considers to what extent places rooted in an industrial past are able to envisage a different economic future for themselves It questions whether these visions replicate strategies employed in larger cities or put forth plans that better suit the unique histories and challenges of places that remain outside the global limelight Exploring the intersection between a cultural and sustainable economy raises issues that are central to how urban regeneration is approached and neighborhood needs and assets are understood Case studies in this book examine spaces and planning processes that hold the possibility of addressing inequality by forging new economic and social relationships and by embarking on more inclusive and collaborative experiments in culture based economic development These examples often focus on building upon the assets of existing residents and broadly define creativity and talent They also acknowledge both the economic and non monetary value of cultural practices This book maintains a critical edge incorporating left critiques of mainstream creative economy theories and practices into empirical case studies that depart from standard cultural economy discourse Structural barriers and unequal distributions of power make the search for viable urban development alternatives especially difficult for smaller post industrial cities and risk derailing even creative grassroots initiatives While acknowledging these obstacles this book moves beyond critique and focuses on how the growing economy surrounding culture the arts and ecological design can be harnessed and transformed to best benefit such cities and improve the quality of life for its residents
