The Making Of The Representative For Planet 8:

The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 /Philip Glass ; Doris Lessing Philip Glass,Doris Lessin,1988 The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 (Canopus in Argos: Archives Series, Book 4) Doris Lessing,2012-11-01 From the winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature this is the fourth instalment in the visionary novel cycle Canopus in Argos Archives

The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Doris Lessing,1988 Planet 8 a prosperous world with intelligent vital inhabitants is transformed by an Ice Age a change that causes a critical variation in lifestyle and a drastic reappraisal of the meaning and value of life Identity in Doris Lessing's Space Fiction David F. Waterman,2006 In this study of identity in Doris Lessing s space fiction David Waterman devotes a chapter to each of the five novels in the Canopus in Argos Archives series as well as Briefing for a Descent into Hell Memoirs of a Survivor and finally The Reason for It This is an important addition to understanding the works of this prolific author His major argument is that Lessing s space fiction identifies the universal problem society s division into competitive and predatory groups and places it outside the bounds of time and space encouraging a social critique which takes into account our inherited blindness our degenerative disease which must be addressed before genuine progress can be made Lessing s examination of the relationship between individual identity and group identity produces a productive tension that accounts for so much of interest in her work over many years Nowhere is that tension more obvious or more interesting than in the space fiction that David Waterman so ably explores Waterman writes convincingly of Lessing s desire to cut through the performance the received ideas the habits and customs of our daily lives Drawing on a wide range of sources he provides an interdisciplinary reading of the space fiction and maps Lessing s brave exploration of the hierarchical landscapes that so often imprison us Waterman offers a timely reading of Lessing for contemporary readers living in the landscape of globalization Professor Margaret Moan Rowe Purdue University The Making of the Representative for Planet 8 Doris Lessing,1982 Making of the Representative for Planet 8; Canopus in Argos: Archives Doris Lessing,1982 The Span of Mainstream and Science Fiction Peter Brigg,2015-09-16 From the 1960s when the advent of what many call the postmodern style made establishing genres more difficult to the present day writers have been incorporating science not only the commonly thought of science and technology but also the soft sciences such as psychology and sociology into what was previously considered mainstream fiction This book examines works by Thomas Pynchon Doris Lessing and others who incorporate science in fiction and exemplify the movement of mainstream fiction writers toward a new genre termed span It also examines works by some science fiction writers who are edging closer to the border of science fiction and slowly over into span This book maps the boundaries of the new span genre of fiction and thus helps define texts that fall outside the realms of mainstream and science fiction Diagrams are included and a bibliography and index Apocalypse in Crisis Christopher Palmer,2021-10-15 Apocalypse is traditional and familiar and it is an actual threat it is feared desired and banal Apocalypse in Crisis discusses fictions from the 1940s to the present examining shifts in the imagination of apocalypse from the postwar British disaster novels through novels of the countercultural sixties feminist interventions and recent revisions and critiques As empire fades ideas of sexuality shift and attitudes to nature and to the city change so apocalyptic fictions change The individual subject is asserted immolated transcended abandoned individual deaths are substituted for mass death death is faked or erased The subjects and survivors of catastrophe set about re establishing civilization or they abandon it finding new ways of being and of dying they respond to it when it comes from outside as an invasion or they are immersed in it as it shifts from being an event to being a condition They flee the city for the country or accept that they must draw on the energies of the world city in order to survive The book includes detailed discussion of novels by H G Wells George M Stewart Nevil Shute John Wyndham Arthur C Clarke J G Ballard Brian Aldiss Doris Lessing Angela Carter Anna Kavan Arno Schmidt Anthony Burgess Ursula K Le Guin Tom Perrotta Douglas Coupland Don DeLillo China Mi ville Jeff VanderMeer and Kim Stanley Robinson Psychic Connection and the Twentieth-Century British Novel Mark Taylor, 2023-01-08 Criticism of the novel routinely starts with the assumption that characters must think develop and strive for self fulfilment as individuals This book challenges the paradigm that individualism is innate to the novel as a medium It describes how major writers throughout the twentieth century many convinced by the supposed findings of parapsychology rejected the idea of the discrete character Treating the self as porous they offered novels structured around the development of communities and ideas rather than individuals By focusing on D H Lawrence Olaf Stapledon Aldous Huxley and Doris Lessing Mark Taylor demonstrates the need to broaden our approach to character when addressing the novel of the twentieth century and beyond Re-Embroidering the Robe Suzanne Bray, Adrienne E. Gavin, Peter Merchant, 2009-10-02 Religious faith myths and legends have always been present in literature However their role has changed over time Since the middle of the nineteenth century with the diminishing role of religion in European society writers with some kind of belief system whether religious or political have tended to use myth in two different ways They have either retold the old familiar myths of the past so that they carry fresh messages relevant to a contemporary audience or created their own new myths as modern vehicles of traditional truths Many writers have combined the two techniques Such is the transforming artistry which the eighteen essays in Re-Embroidering the Robe examine the remaking or new minting of myth in literature from 1850 to the present day so that what it embodies and expresses speaks powerfully to the modern reader In widely differing ways therefore all of the texts analysed here compel attention The Diaries of Jane Somers Doris Lessing, 2012-08-30 As resonant with social and political themes as Lessing's masterpiece The Golden Notebook The Diaries of Jane Somers sees the author returns to the realism of her early fiction with the wisdom and experience of maturity The Golden Notebook Doris Lessing, 2012-01-30 The landmark novel of the Sixties a powerful account of a woman searching for her personal political and professional identity while facing rejection and betrayal The Four-Gated City Doris Lessing, 2012-05-31 The fifth and final book in the Nobel Prize for Literature winner's Children of
