The Mandinka Balafon An Introduction With Notation For Teaching:

The Mandinka Balafon Lynne Jessup, 1983 The Mandinka Balafon offers in depth research on the history construction and use of the West African balafon Lynne Jessup provides a variety of accounts of the origin of the bala including interviews with the jeli griots of The Gambia Seventeen transcribed balafon songs are notated with modified box notation and two accompanying CDs with the history and use of each song Detailed information is given on the construction and tuning of the Mandinka balafon with supportive photos and drawings Developing an All-School Model for Elementary Integrative Music Learning Carol E. Reed-Jones, 2014-03 The purpose of this study was to investigate the potential for increasing informal music making in elementary school culture and create a model of such music making Precedence for this model can be found in the literature of ethnomusicology educational psychology and learning theory multicultural music education and cultural anthropology Literature from four distinct traditions and contexts of music making in integrative sociocultural contexts sub Saharan African ngoma and Community Music as manifested in New Orleans second lines old time music and dance and summer camp music making was parsed with a philosophical lens to determine and assess possible areas of intersection between these four participatory cultures and North American public school culture Each of these five areas was examined through a comprehensive review of literature to define their salient characteristics These characteristics were sorted to determine commonalities between areas and the zones of intersection became the basis for a speculative model of integrative music learning featuring the inclusion of musical opportunities and interludes throughout the school day thus taking school music beyond the confines of the music room Instruction in music classes would still continue enhanced in this model by supplemental learning opportunities inspired by the informal learning of traditional world musics the participatory practice of New Orleans second line parades old time music and dance and summer camp music culture This model of integrative learning is also informed by current educational best practices such as child centered learning peer tutoring experiential learning and multicultural perspectives It acknowledges the diversity of traditions consulted while aiming for the unity in their seemingly disparate disciplines Five universal characteristics were uncovered in the search for areas of intersection between North American elementary school culture child culture ngoma music making and Community Music style music making in New Orleans old time music and dance and summer camp contexts a Song b play c informal learning as evidenced by oral tradition peer tutoring self learning d kinesthetic learning and e contextualized learning as evidenced in the sociocultural uses of music and situated learning This model strives for the enactment of school music as a vital and integral part of daily school culture The Garland Handbook of African Music Ruth M. Stone, 2010-04-02 The Garland Handbook of African Music is comprised of essays from The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Volume 1 Africa 1997 Revised and updated the essays offer detailed regional studies of the different musical cultures of Africa and examine the ways in which music helps to define the identity of this particular area Part One provides an in depth introduction to Africa Part Two focuses on issues and processes such as notation and oral tradition dance in communal life and intellectual property Part Three focuses on the different regions countries and cultures of Africa with selected regional case studies The second edition has been expanded to include exciting new scholarship that has been conducted since the first edition was published Questions for Critical Thinking at the end of each major section guide and focus attention on what musical and cultural issues arise when one studies the music of Africa issues that might not occur in the study of other musics of the world An accompanying audio compact disc offers musical examples of some of the music of Africa

Music, Education, and Multiculturalism Terese M. Volk, 2004-10-14 In today's multi ethnic classroom multiculturalism plays an increasingly vital role What it is how it developed and what it means for education especially music education are the questions that form the essence of this book Music Education and Multiculturalism traces the growth and development of multicultural music education in the United States from its start in the early 1900s to the present and describes the state of multicultural music education internationally Beginning with a discussion of the philosophical foundations surrounding multiculturalism Part I addresses the various definitions of multiculturalism and its associated problems and possibilities in both education at large and music education in particular It offers a succinct discussion of the various philosophical concepts and rationales for a multicultural approach and concludes with current thoughts and applications in music education Part II follows multicultural music education in the U S as it paralleled changes in general education brought about by social and historical events The last chapter in this section outlines multiculturalism in music education around the world Part III focuses on the implications of multiculturalism for music education both in teacher training and in classroom instruction Designed to assist music educators at all levels in understanding and implementing multicultural education Music Education and Multiculturalism provides suggestions for curricular development offers teaching strategies and provides practical applications including materials and methodologies Combining personal narrative and oral history with the support of primary and archival documents this text is essential reading for all students and teachers of the history and foundations of music education and of multiculturalism in general education

More Hands On! Lynne Jessup, 2009-10 This is a beginning book of percussion pieces designed to assist the teacher in providing a hands on experience with the sounds of African percussion ensembles The collection is based on authentic pieces of music however no attempt has been made to notate the improvisation and variation that are inherent in African Drumming As with any oral tradition even within a recognized piece of music there are changes and variations so that no one version is the correct one A CD is included with the book

The New Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning Richard Colwell, Carol Richardson, 2002-04-18 Featuring chapters by the world's foremost scholars in music education and cognition this handbook is a convenient collection of current research on music teaching and learning This comprehensive work includes sections on arts advocacy music and medicine teacher education and studio instruction among other subjects making it an essential reference for music education programs The original

Historical Dictionary of the Republic of Guinea-Bissau Richard Lobban,Peter Karibe Mendy,Peter Michael

Karibe Mendy, 1997 Guinea-Bissau formerly Portuguese Guinea is one of West Africa's smallest nations but its history is unusually rich. The three major ethnic groups of West Africa, Fula, Mande, and Senegambians, are all represented there. The major regional kingdom of Kaabu was centered on the upper Guinea coast and was the site of the first meeting between Europeans and sub-Saharan Africans in the great age of Portuguese maritime discovery and expansion. In the twentieth century the protracted war of national liberation led by the famous Amílcar Cabral and fought on Guinean soil contributed to the collapse of Portuguese colonialism in Lisbon. The first edition of this historical dictionary, 1979, covered the two nations, Guinea and Cape Verde, then joined politically after a decade of armed struggle. When a military coup separated these nations after 1980, the second edition, 1988, responded with an individual volume for each nation. Richard Lobban has been joined in this third edition by Peter Karibe Mendy, Guinea's leading researcher. The two combine expertise in the fields of history and anthropology and have greatly expanded coverage of precolonial and resistance history, women and health, ethnomusicology, and economic development, as well as adding events and individuals from contemporary multi-party campaigns and democratic elections. Superb maps illustrate changes in Guinean culture and history. This is the primary resource for this important area and includes a carefully selected bibliography that will provide guidance for further study.
