Bian,2005-04-30 The conventional argument is that China borrowed its economic system and development strategy wholesale from the U S S R in the 1950s Bian shows instead that basic state owned enterprise bureaucratic governance management and incentive mechanisms and provision of social services and welfare developed in China during the war years 1937 1945      Military Force and Elite Power in the Formation of Modern China Edward A. McCord,2014-01-21 The China we know today emerged at the end of a long period of internal rebellions civil wars foreign invasions and revolutionary insurrections that stretched across the nineteenth century to the mid point of the twentieth This book explores one important consequence of this situation the increased role of military force in the determination of elite social political and economic power and presents fascinating case studies of the warlords militia leaders and military officers who benefited from this Examining the intersection of military force and elite power in the formative years of modern Chinese history this book highlights just how important military force was to elite power in nineteenth and early twentieth century China in a context of frequent warfare and political turmoil It shows that the way in which military empowerment unfolded and who exactly was empowered depended heavily on shifting military and political conditions and each case confirms the extent to which military force emerged as a consistently significant determinant of elite power across this period Indeed the transformative effect of military force on social and political structures of power revealed by these studies sheds distinctive light on the prevalence and wide ranging impact of military conflicts in this period In turn these studies also provide a particular perspective on the fluid boundaries of as well as the constraints on elite power in Chinese society in a time of intense social and political change This book makes an important contribution to our understanding of the rise of modern China and provides a keen insight into impact of war on the country as such it will be welcomed by students and scholars interested in Chinese history Asian history and military history more broadly      The Creation of Modern China, 1894-2008 Iain Robertson Scott,2016-06-30 China preoccupies us yet its recent past is still relatively unfamiliar No country has undergone a greater period of sustained and turbulent change than China in the twentieth century but it has emerged again as a leading global power It is therefore more important than ever to understand the society it has become and its rise to such influence This timely study uses recent research to explore how China has been transformed from an economic and political backwater at the start of the twentieth century to its current pre eminent position one hundred years later      The Making of the Modern Chinese State 1600-1950 Huaiyin Li,2019 The Making of the Modern Chinese State 1600 1950 offers an historical analysis of the formation of the modern Chinese state from the seventeenth century to the mid twentieth centuries providing refreshing and provocative interpretations on almost every major issue regarding the rise of modern China This book explores the question of why today s China is unlike any other nation state in size and structure It inquires into the reasons behind the striking continuity in China's territorial and ethnic compositions over the past centuries and explicates the genesis and tenacity of the Chinese state as a highly centralized and unified regime that has been able to survive into the twenty first century. Its analysis centres on three key variables namely geopolitical strategy, fiscal constitution and identity building and it demonstrates how they worked together to shape the outcome of state transformation in modern China. Enhanced by a selection of informative tables and illustrations, The Making of the Modern Chinese State 1600-1950 is ideal for undergraduates and graduates studying East Asian history, Chinese history, empires in Asia and state formation. Keeping the Nation's House Helen M. Schneider, 2011-03-01. The term home economics often conjures images of sterile classrooms where girls learn to cook dinner and swaddle dolls far removed from the seats of power. Helen Schneider unsettles this assumption by revealing how Chinese women helped to build a nation one family at a time. From the 1920s to the early 1950s, home economists transformed the most fundamental of political spaces, the home, by teaching women to nurture ideal families and manage projects of social reform. Although their discipline came undone after 1949, it created a legacy of gendered professionalism and reinforced the idea that leaders should shape domestic rituals of the people.
