The Magnificent Adventure Emerson Hough, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from The Magnificent Adventure This Being the Story of the World's Greatest Exploration and the Romance of a Very Gallant Gentleman A Woman tall somewhat angular dark of hair and eye strong of features a woman now approaching middle age sat looking out over the long tree clad slopes that ran down from the gallery front of the mansion house to the gate at the distant roadway She had sat thus for some moments many moments her gaze intently fixed as though waiting for something something or someone that she did not now see but expected soon to see It was late afternoon of a day so beautiful that not even old Albemarle beauty spot of Virginia ever produced one more beautiful not in the hundred years preceding that day nor in the century since then For this was more than a hundred years ago and what is now an ancient land was then a half opened region settled only here and there by the great plantations of the well to do The house that lay at the summit of the long and gentle slope flanked by its wide galleries its flung doors opening it from front to rear to the gaze as one approached had all the rude comfort and assuredness usual with the gentry of that time and place About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
