The Man Eating Machine:

Digital Media Revisited Gunnar Liestol, Andrew Morrison, Terje Rasmussen, 2004-09-17 Interdisciplinary essays on the relationship between practice and theory in new media Arguing that first encounters have already applied traditional theoretical and conceptual frameworks to digital media the contributors to this book call for second encounters or a revisiting Digital media are not only objects of analysis but also instruments for the development of innovative perspectives on both media and culture Drawing on insights from literary theory semiotics philosophy aesthetics ethics media studies sociology and education the contributors construct new positions from which to observe digital media in fresh and meaningful ways Throughout they explore to what extent interpretation of and experimentation with digital media can inform theory It also asks how our understanding of digital media can contribute to our understanding of social and cultural change The book is organized in four sections Education and Interdisciplinarity Design and Aesthetics Rhetoric and Interpretation and Social Theory and Ethics The topics include the effects on reading of the multimodal and multisensory aspects of the digital environment the impact of practice on the medium of theory how digital media are dissolving the boundaries between leisure and work and the impact of cyberspace on established ethical principles

Polly Brown Tricia Bennett, 2012-04-11

Polly Brown is a young orphan girl who struggles to cope with life in the harsh environment of a children's home The story is set in a genteel English country town One day a mysterious stranger knocks at the door and invites her on a roller coaster whirlwind adventure that changes her life forever She begins a voyage of self discovery where she finds out that dreams can come true if you pursue them with all your heart Polly Brown is an authentic story that walks readers through hardship and joys Young adults will sympathize with Polly's difficult and authentic journey from negativity to faith in God's guiding over her life Her struggles are not glossed over nor are they treated with a just believe attitude Through Polly's honest talks with God readers will learn how to pray and cultivate a real relevant relationship with their Creator

Queer Times, Black

Futures Kara Keeling, 2019-04-16 Finalist 2019 Lambda Literary Award in LGBTQ Studies A profound intellectual engagement with Afrofuturism and the philosophical questions of space and time Queer Times Black Futures considers the promises and pitfalls of imagination technology futurity and liberation as they have persisted in and through racial capitalism Kara Keeling explores how the speculative fictions of cinema music and literature that center black existence provide scenarios wherein we might imagine alternative worlds queer and otherwise In doing so Keeling offers a sustained meditation on contemporary investments in futurity speculation and technology paying particular attention to their significance to queer and black freedom Keeling reads selected works such as Sun Ra's 1972 film Space is the Place and the 2005 film The Aggressives to juxtapose the Afrofuturist tradition of speculative imagination with the similar speculations of corporate and financial institutions In connecting a queer cinematic reordering of time with the new possibilities technology offers Keeling thinks with and through a vibrant conception of the imagination as a gateway to queer times and black futures and the previously unimagined spaces that they can conjure authorial intention art history and morality play a role in our encounter with art works Grimm,Jost Hermand,1994 As the editors write in this volume while the dichotomy of high and low classical and popular elitist and trivial has occupied theorists of culture for centuries very few of them have paid more than scant attention to the various attempts at mediating between these two levels of cultural endeavor The essays collected here most delivered at the twenty second Wisconsin Workshop in October 1991 address exactly this aspect of cultural studies using modern Germany as their canvas The contributors range across the entire breadth of German cultural life analyzing developments in the arts literature poetry architecture and cinema as well as looking at contemporary writing by women and at changes in cultural depictions of sexuality Germany s political paroxysms throughout the last hundred years figure prominently in the evolution of its cultural consciousness so there is in these essays a strong sense of nation invented perfected lost and recovered but always fascinating A totally homogenized German culture one devoid of any higher aspirations will be the impoverished result of postmodernism the editors warn It is their goal to remind those who are all too eager to overlook the losses occurring in this process that this tendency can also besides its positive democratic aspect lead to one dimensionality

Aspects of Metaphor Jaakko Hintikka,1994-09-30 Metaphor is one of the most frequently evoked but at the same time most poorly understood concepts in philosophy and literary theory In recent years several interesting approaches to metaphor have been presented or outlined In this volume authors of some of the most important new approaches re present their views or illustrate them by means of applications thus allowing the reader to survey some of the prominent ongoing developments in this field These authors include Robert Fogelin Susan Haack Jaakko Hintikka with Gabriel Sandu Bipin Indurkhy and Eva Kittay with Eric Steinhart Their stance is in the main constructive rather than critical but frequent comparisons of different views further facilitate the reader s overview In the other contributions metaphor is related to the problems of visual representation No l Carroll to the open class test Avishai Margalit and Naomi Goldblum as well as to Wittgenstein s idea of a way of life E M Zemach

Vietnam, We've All Been

There Eric J. Schroeder,1992 Vietnam We've All Been There is a unique collection of interviews with noted American writers who made the Vietnam war a subject of their work The writers represented here were chosen by Dr Schroeder because their books plays poems and reportage are among the best of the particular genre in which each one works Norman Mailer David Rabe and Michael Herr among them Provocative not only for the opinions and memories of the interviewees this book is also interesting for its focus on the variety of literary forms and styles that emerged from the Vietnam experience The author makes the point that the more successful literature to come out of the war was from writers who stretched the limits of particular forms giving birth to narratives that broke all the rules For example where journalism usually demands facts Michael Herr the author of Dispatches insisted on much more He described psychological states assessed personal losses and personified the war in ways that were radically different from accepted reporting As Dr Schroeder reminds us Vietnam deeply affected everyone who lived through it thus there were many cultural effects that still beg for examination and thought He spent nine years gathering these interviews and during that time the war was a constant presence in his life For many Americans even a lifetime may not make it possible to come to terms with the war And while it is important not to forget where we ve been it is also important to move forward In this book the writers we hear from like the works they created help us to remember the past with a reflective wisdom that is essential to informing our future 'The road': leaves from the sketch-book of a commercial traveller, by 'the Whistling Commercial'.
